*The many moods
of Valley Forge*

The many moods of Valley Forge

are transient things,

inspired by circumstances—

the maddening snap of a breaking pencil point during a test. . .
the brash finality of the bell after a long school day;

born in the wake of inspiration and of questions springing from new ideas—

the student's growing awareness of his own creative potential. . .
the determined search for challenge to transcend the bounds of mediocrity;

readily communicated from student to student—

through interpersonal relationships. . .
through intellectual contact within groups and between individuals;

establishing a unity of spirit and of purpose—

by generating a spontaneous diffusion of emotion. . .
by encompassing all who are not impervious to human sentiment;

easily induced, easily dispelled—

by a new cycle of events. . .
by renewed capacities for perception and expression.

constantly shifting—

from happiness. . .
to sorrow. . .
to provoking pensiveness;

gauging the emotional response of students and faculty—

by mirroring the effect of their interacting reactions to varied stimuli. . .
by creating in Valley Forge, the collective manifestation of its students and teachers, a durable bond of unity through unity of mood.

Moods expressed in motion

are portrayed by an amused class's hearty laughter, echoing in the halls and coaxing curious, indulgent smiles onto the faces of students in adjoining rooms. . .

a football stadium pulsating with the reverberations of the thundering Thor and of students' vociferous support of their Patriots. . .

a pair of nimble hands riffling through the card catalogue in the library. . .

the resounding wooden thwack of field hockey sticks in clattering pursuit of a goal-bound ball. . .

a blinding electrical shower, the product of a student welder's newly-acquired skill.

Unity of effort prompts dedication of groups of students to temporary goals, short-lived but nonetheless important to the individuals involved. . .

of individual students to long term goals of excellence in various realms of living. . .

of teachers to respected principles of formal education by using the best techniques, and informal instruction by setting the best examples. . .

of individuals to one another, joined by a compact of trust and a reciprocity of affection.

Dedication in theatre produces satisfaction of achievement sensed in a carefully-set stage, emerging irrevocably from behind the steadily-widening rift in the curtain on opening night of the school play. . .

portrayed in the evolution of living characters from paper and ink origins. . .

experienced vicariously by a receptive audience. . .

acknowledged by seemingly endless crescendoes of applause as the curtain begins to swish back across the darkening stage. . .

depicted in the faces and in the voices of exhausted but jubilant Thespians, whose satisfaction is a corollary to their unified efforts, inspired by mood unity.

Valley Forge students are versatility personified by self-effacing concentration and deep absorption in serious thought. . .

the banging, clattering, jovial and paper-littered atmosphere of the cafeteria at lunch time. . .

furrowed brows, the reaction to some puzzling aspect of learning. . .

a comment, serious or sarcastic,
and a laugh-provoking riposte. . .

differing tastes in dress,
literature, studies
and recreation. . .

widely varying opinions and ideas
among students,
fostering tolerance
and intellectual growth.

Spirit of adventure is the prelude to wanderlust attuning a class's attention to a teacher's anecdotes about travel in faraway and exotic places. . .

prompting students to pile into chartered busses bound for local attractions. . .

enveloping a daydreamer in wishful fantasies of expansive white beaches lapped by deep cerulean seas. . .

inspiring serious and interested study of the world's different geographical features. . .

providing unique voyages and new experiences, all within the realm of the imagination.

Challenge demands response from the student probing the technical intricacies of modern scientific advances and equipment. . .

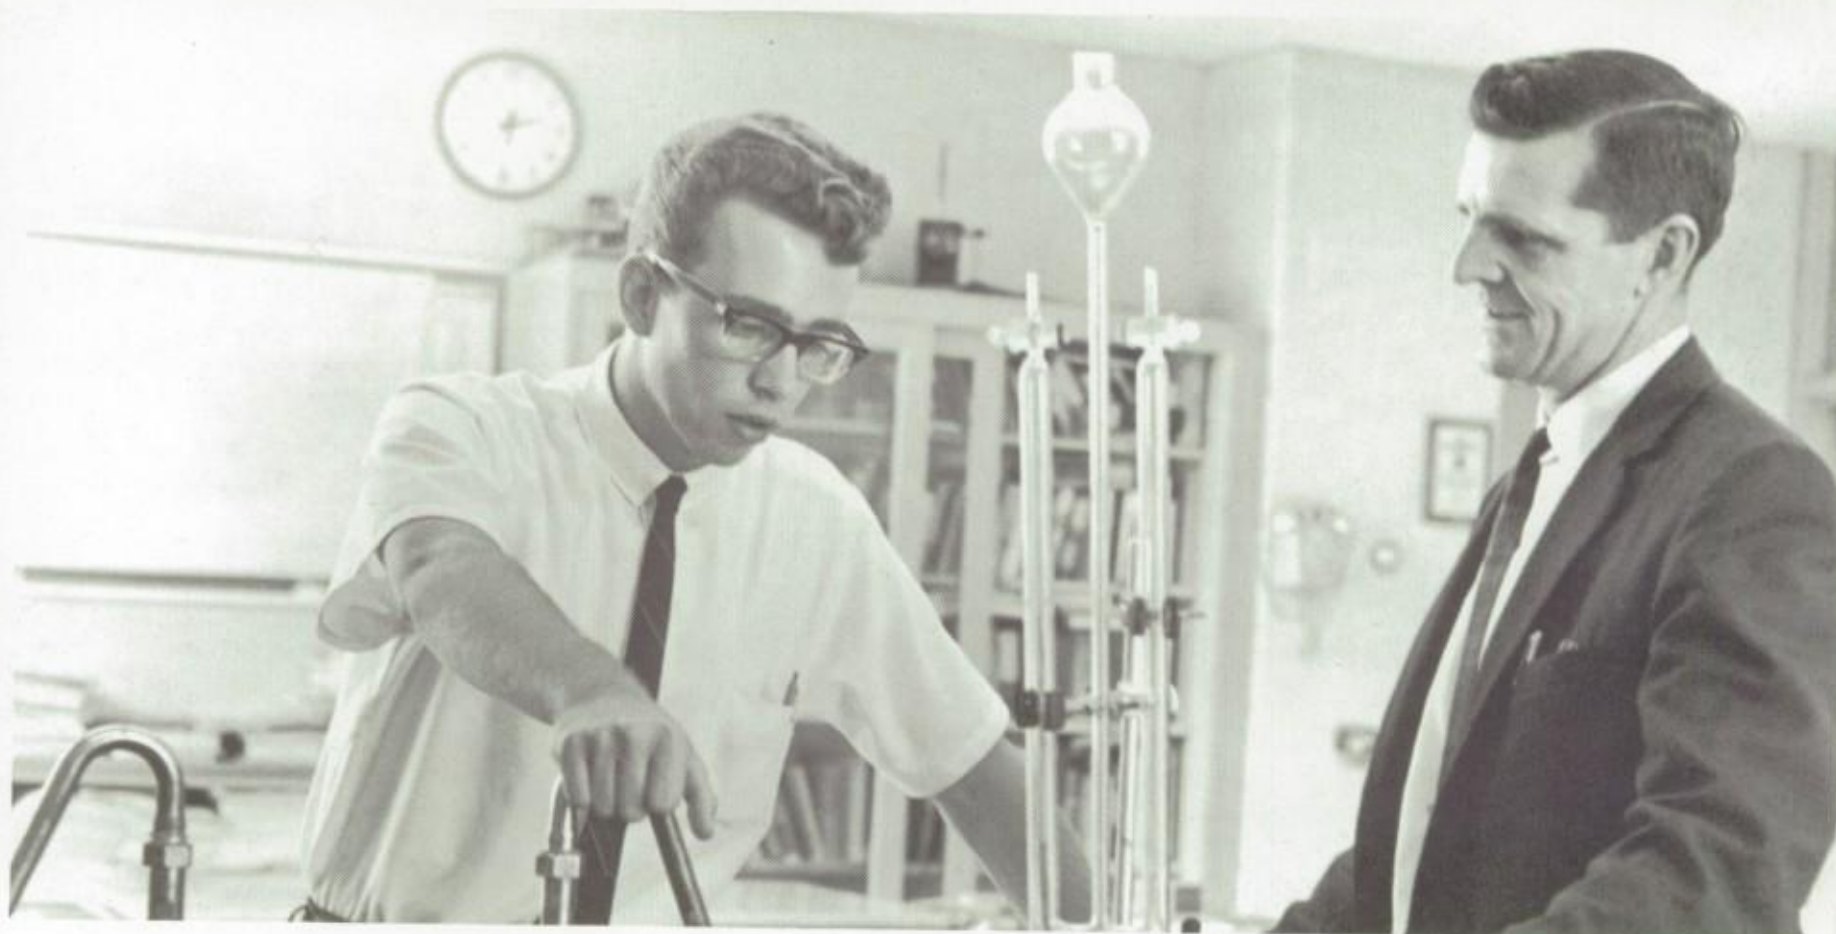

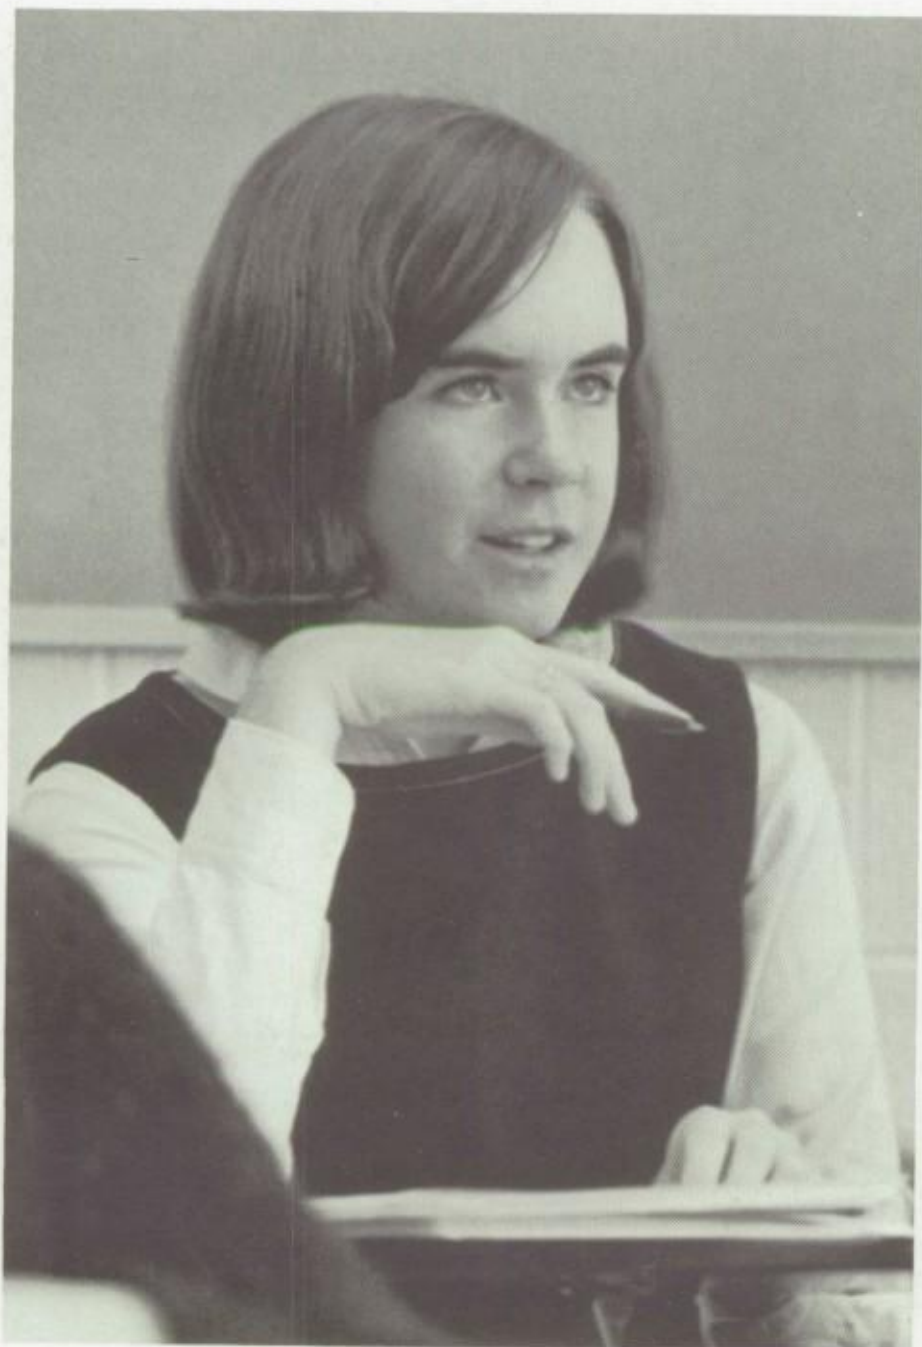

the pupil striving to benefit from skilled and directive tutelage. . .

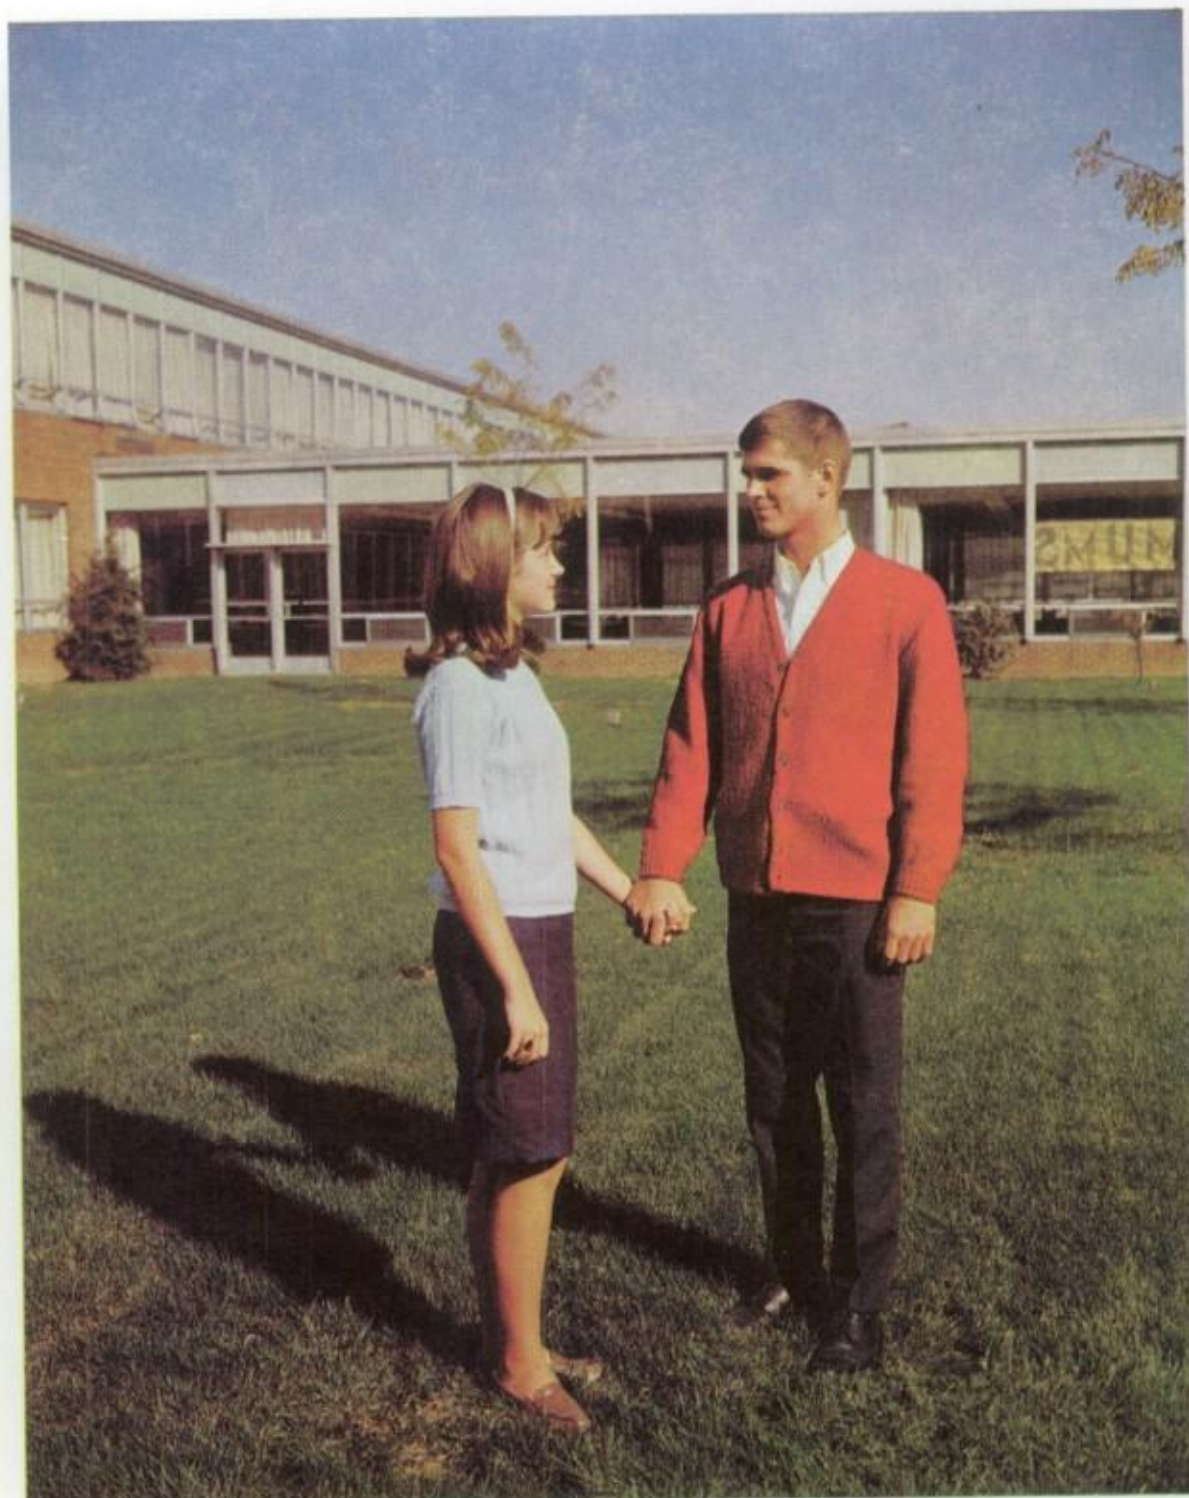

the teacher, anxious to present material to students in a comprehensible but stimulating manner. . .

the group, working as a team, urged to attain goals which sometimes seem impossible. . .

the reflective individual, trying to ascertain his position in the group, to understand his reactions to stimuli within the group, and to appreciate his own stimulating contributions to the group.

Valley Forge's many moods are intangible snatches of sentiment and human emotion. . .

often pleasant, at times,
disagreeable. . .

transmitted through different channels—physical. . .
emotional. . .
intellectual. . .

brief in tenure. . .

lasting in effect. . .

effecting and solidifying at Valley Forge a sincere and encompassing unity through unity of moods.

FACULTY

*In the mind
of the educator*

lives an ideal

persevering through—tired aching feet and a hoarse voice . . .

the first breezes of spring,
rustling through ineffectual curtains on classroom windows;

apparent in—

vigorous scrapings of chalk against blackboards . . .

the earnest, almost pleading expression of one anxious to instruct and clarify . . .

a suddenly-enlightened student's reflexive "Ohhh!" and his sheepish laugh at his previous confusion;

contending with—

the frustration of discipline problems . . .

a mailbox overflowing with letters, memoranda, and forms
to be completed, somehow,
before the end of the day;

solidified by—

rows of numbers in a grade book, marking a class's measurable progress . . .

sharing in the formation of a student's character through thoughtful education.

Administrative policies mirror

V.F.'s character

Confronted with an active and ever-growing student body, Principal David M. Smith directed classroom and extracurricular activities, as well as school curriculum.

In his first year as Assistant Principal, Mr. Harry Wilcoxon helped the school administration to operate efficiently.

Working together and cooperating with the School Board and the faculty, Mr. Smith and Mr. Wilcoxon sought to alleviate the problems which often arise in a large suburban high school.

Mr. Smith and Mr. Wilcoxon discuss ways to improve student-faculty communications.

School Board interprets education's ideals

Although students in the Parma School System do not have direct contact with members of the School Board, this group's decisions strongly influence school policy and school life. Issue 9, presented by the School Board to insure the quality of education within the school system, was approved in November by the voters of Parma, Parma Heights and Seven Hills.

The School Board, an elected contingent of citizens, works for the betterment of the entire school system by increasing opportunities for modern education.

Mr. Stuart Openlander, Superintendent of Schools, discusses Issue 9 with the Valley Forge faculty.

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS, 1966-67—Mr. Charles Kovach, Mr. Joseph Kral, Mr. Charles Chaffin, Mrs. Robert Schuster, president; Mr. Robert Brown.

Secretaries alleviate administrators' schedules

Without the help of the clerical staff, Valley Forge's offices could not have served students and faculty so well as they did this year.

In the Attendance Office, secretaries kept records of attendance and tardiness and aided students in following the proper attendance procedures. Other duties of the attendance office aides included guiding students in making appointments with counselors and obtaining work permits.

In the Main Office, secretaries carried out the wishes of the Principal and the Assistant Principal, as well as relaying telephone calls to counselors and teachers. They also issued various permission slips and permits.

MAIN OFFICE SECRETARIES—Mrs. Hoelter, Mrs. Weiler, Mrs. Lukacsko.

In order to complete a student's attendance card, Mrs. Dvorak calls his home to confirm his absence.

ATTENDANCE OFFICE SECRETARIES—Mrs. Hird, Mrs. Dvorak, Mrs. Birk.

Skilled counselors channel ambitions

In a large school, students are reassured to find counselors who are sincerely interested in helping them find the solutions to their many problems.

Realizing that each student number represents an individual with a unique personality and needs, Valley Forge counselors strive to help students resolve difficulties arising from school curriculum and personal problems.

Through conferences with counselors, students have an opportunity to gain self understanding. They are then able to profit by counselors' efforts to direct talents into profitable endeavors.

Taking a break from his duties, Mr. Kuttler watches the construction of his new office.

Literature stimulates opinion and logic

Innovation characterized the English Department this year. Two new courses, Creative Writing and Theater Workshop, were initiated into the English curriculum.

Sophomores and juniors continued to take advantage of English classes offered on a standard or an enriched level.

A number of senior English students enrolled in C.P. English IV in order to build a foundation for work in college English courses.

Others took the A.P. English course, which culminated in May with the Advanced Placement English test. Through this test, some seniors attained college credit for English.

Journalism and speech classes provided experience and pleasure for those interested in school publications or in the various phases of public speaking.

Library supplements classroom study

Fulfillment of a major ambition marked progress in Valley Forge's library this year. For the first time, students were able to utilize new foreign language tapes to supplement classroom study. French, Spanish and Russian tapes were played on a special tape recorder equipped with four sets of individual earphones.

Demands upon the librarians' skill, time, and energy continued as students sought information on sundry topics. College-bound students utilized catalogues from colleges and universities.

Teachers, too, were helped by the library's services. Slides, records of poetry and music, and textbooks were available from the library on request.

Home Economics

fosters

domestic arts

To stimulate interest in the domestic arts, the Home Economics Department offered a variety of courses including Clothing I and Clothing II and classes in foods and their preparation.

Foods students applied their knowledge by experimenting with new recipes. As a part of the clothing courses, pupils staged fashion shows at which they modeled their own creations.

By enrolling in Home Economics classes, students were able to acquire useful experience to prepare them for careers as homemakers or professional home economists.

Language classes

instill

cultural awareness

Hesitant voices, synchronized in saying "Bonjour" or "Hola" present evidence of members of the Foreign Language Department at work. With filmstrips, tape recordings, and coordinated workbooks, the department utilizes the audio-visual method of linguistic training.

Besides developing fluency in one or more languages, students become aware of foreign cultures, customs, and governments. By reading and watching educational films narrated in the studied language, the linguists also absorb many elusive idioms encountered while studying a foreign language.

Expanding this year's curriculum to include a fifth year of study in French, Spanish, and German, the department accommodated students who began studying a foreign language as eighth-graders. Language students were also offered four-year courses in Russian and Classical Latin.

After proving a theorem, Mr. Schlemmer discusses specific examples of its use.

Math teachers

vivify

abstractions

Mathematics is vital to many aspects of modern life; thus, the Mathematics Department seeks to prepare its students by offering courses on vocational, intermediate, and enriched levels.

Pupils studying plane or unified geometry learn the essentials of logical reasoning while analyzing the relationships between lines and angles.

Algebra I and Algebra II provide insight into the nature of numbers, while trigonometry and college algebra, combined in a year-long course, provide students with the practice and experience necessary for college success.

Mr. Smith evaluates students' syllogistic proofs of geometric theorems.

Scientific curiosity motivates discovery of the unknown

Stressing the need for capable scientists in a technical age, Valley Forge's Science Department offered a varied selection of comprehensive courses.

Chemistry students chose between traditional chemistry, Chem Study, and Chemical Bond Analysis.

Biology I introduced pupils to the classifications and characteristics of living things. Other biology students had the opportunity to utilize their knowledge by working independently on approved projects in Biology II.

Facilities of the planetarium provided earth science classes with astronomical study.

Science Seminar was comprised of selected students who demonstrated scientific talent. Each participant worked toward the completion of a project.

An experiment was conducted in the Social Studies Department this year. Federally subsidized, Humanities I included not only the rudiments of humanistic study but also concentrated upon the relationship of the humanities to human problems.

Selected sophomores of diverse talents were placed in Humanities I, and their reactions to the material presented helped to determine the value and the future of this new course.

The department continued to offer its regular classes in world history, American history, U. S. Government, economics, and current problems.

Honors classes in world history and American government were open to recommended students. In May, those enrolled in Valley Forge's Advanced Placement American History course took the Advanced Placement Examination. A passing score on this test, drawn up by the College Entrance Examination Board, often results in college credit for the high school student.

Art

Initiated to instill in students a basic concept of the humanities' functions, Arts Seminar included a general coverage of literature, art, music, and architecture. Enrollment in this course was greatly increased since last year. In the spring, Arts Seminar students traveled as a group to New York City.

A record number of students also took advantage of the other courses available in the Art Department. Those enrolled in vocational art, sign painting, and graduated art courses learned about the mechanics of the various art forms and discussed their practical applications.

Mrs. Fassinger suggests a different design for Dave Ciganko's scratch board.

Music— the universal tongue

Working to draw out and encourage people with musical prowess, the Music Department has organized a format of courses in vocal and instrumental music.

Girls' and boys' choirs, choruses, and glee clubs drew a variety of talented students this year, as did A Capella Choir and Madrigal Singers. In order to develop skill and promote music appreciation, members of Valley Forge's orchestras and bands presented a number of concerts.

Vocal and instrumental music students alike worked closely with Mr. Jack Johnson, the Parma School System's composer-in-residence for 1966-1967.

Business students anticipate careers

Instructing students in the essential aspects of office procedure and efficient business routine keynoted activity in the Business Education Department.

Through the Cooperative Office Education, Office Work Experience, and Distributive Education programs, future business leaders acquired experience by applying classroom theory.

Students enrolled in typing, shorthand, notehand, and office machines courses concentrated upon developing skills and efficiency.

Technology demands ingenuity

Providing opportunities for studying the multiple facets of the industrial arts, the Industrial Education Department seeks to prepare students for careers in various trades.

Whether working with metals, dismantling engines, or perfecting arc welding procedure, this year's students acquired new skills and valuable experience by taking advantage of the many courses available.

Through the semester course, Driver Education, the Industrial Education Department attempted to train students to become qualified drivers, aware of modern traffic problems and solutions.

Physical education department stresses good sportsmanship

Coordinating students' minds and bodies, the Physical Education Department achieved its aims through a comprehensive scope of physical activity.

Throughout three years of gym classes, many students become proficient in tumbling and apparatus gymnastics. In contrast to these individual skills, field hockey and basketball demanded precision teamwork and sportsmanship.

Culture was not neglected in the Physical Education Department. Students engaged in folk, modern, and square dancing.

Each junior spent one semester in the department's health class. Here, students discussed standards of public health and hygiene and probed the effects of alcohol and narcotics upon individual health and emotional stability.

Efficiency characterizes non-teaching staff

The work of Valley Forge's non-teaching personnel continues even after the school doors are closed and the students have left.

Custodians work long hours during and after school to keep the school clean.

Planning and preparing hundreds of meals, serving them, and cleaning the kitchen are the daily tasks of the cafeteria staff. From early morning until late in the school day, the staff coordinates its functions so that the cafeteria can continue to accommodate hungry students swiftly and efficiently.

Student Council— the Patriots' voice

By innovating several projects this year, the Student Council and its President, Paul Dimitruk, undertook the responsibility of leading the student body with initiative and mature citizenship.

Designed to acquaint students with the decisions of their elected government, a Student Council bulletin board was established in the cafeteria. Through the efforts of the President, the Council also acquired a cannon, Thor, which was used at football games to promote school enthusiasm.

Annual services and fund-raising activities were also guided by the other Student Council officers, who, unlike the President, are selected within the Council.

Plans for the CARE Dance are introduced to the Student Council by Paul Dimitruk.

Student Council cultivates civic responsibility

Every fall, each homeroom elects a regular and an alternate representative to serve on Student Council. These representatives suggest changes, present solutions to problems, and keep the student government running smoothly.

Besides representing their homerooms at Council meetings, members also supervised the collection of class dues and subscription money for the Battlecry and the Archive.

AFS promotes American ideals

Operating under the auspices of the American Field Service is a special committee comprised of members chosen from the Student Council.

The principal function of the committee this year was to help Johanna Puokka, Valley Forge's exchange student from Finland, adjust to America.

Opportunities for American students to study overseas are also available through the American Field Service.

Studying an atlas, foreign exchange student Johanna Puokka uses library materials to supplement her knowledge of America.

NHS exalts integrity and achievement

Membership in the National Honor Society is based upon faculty selection of fifteen percent of a graduating class. The faculty evaluates the students on scholarship, leadership, service, and character.

A hayride and a dance after a basketball game were among activities sponsored this year by Valley Forge's chapter of the National Honor Society. Members also took part in the All-School Party and supervised the assembly in which new inductees were honored.

The Honor Society card and pin are symbolic of character, service, leadership, and scholarship.

Thespians translate captured moods

To become a member of the Valley Forge chapter of the National Thespian Society, a student must accumulate at least ten Thespian points. These ten points may be earned by working in any phase of a stage production: acting, directing, lighting, costumes, make-up, or props.

In January the Thespians, advised by Mrs. Mayer, presented Rally Round the Flag, Boys. Thespians also contributed to two Valley Forge productions, The Miracle Worker and You Can't Take It With You.

Between cropping pictures and proofreading completed pages, editor-in-chief Kevin Horrigan finds time to draw a layout for the sports section.

ARCHIVE records Patriots' memories

"Deadline" became the watchword of the Archive staff as editors, writers, and typists worked to complete sections of the book by various dates. Section editors, planning from layouts drawn by the art editor, obtained photographs and copy from the photography and literary editors. Individual pages, after being typed, were then approved by the editor-in-chief and the literary editor.

The Archive's business staff managed the sale and distribution of the yearbook with the help of homeroom representatives. The business staff filled orders and filed receipts.

Meeting every school day, and frequently after school and on weekends, the Archive staff completed in March the work that they began during the summer after the Ohio University Journalism Workshop.

ANVIL fosters creative and critical talent

In May the literary magazine, Anvil, publishes original short stories, poems, and essays by Valley Forge students.

The editorial staff meets regularly to discuss and evaluate prospective Anvil material in order to decide what will be published.

Anyone interested in literature and literary criticism may join the Anvil staff to further creative effort at Valley Forge.

Literary Editor Jim Caron scrutinizes proposed Anvil material.

BATTLECRY

illustrates imagination

The Battlecry, the Valley Forge newspaper, is published biweekly by the staff under the direction of Mrs. McConnell. Including news stories, features, interviews, sports, and advertisements, the Battlecry is sold by subscription and during lunch periods.

Working on the newspaper staff gives aspiring journalists the practical experience they desire, as well as providing an outlet for their talents.

Besides editors, the Battlecry staff includes typists, proofreaders, copyreaders, and a business and circulation staff.

Mrs. McConnell supervises as Sue Patla proofreads Battlecry copy.

Experienced educators counsel future teachers

Efficient organization and operation helped the Future Teachers of America Club prepare its members for teaching careers. By innovating a new tutoring program, through which members were able to help other students, FTA provided a useful service to students and faculty.

FTA continued to raise money for a scholarship to be given to one of its senior members. To do this, the Future Teachers sold candy canes at Christmas, and held four bake sales.

At meetings, FTA members listened to different speakers who volunteered to talk about the various aspects of the teaching profession.

Debaters wield words and logic

The Debate Team, supervised by Miss Barbara Greider, meets on Saturday mornings and competes with the teams of nearby schools. Earning many awards and trophies for their arguments, debaters strive for membership in the National Forensic League.

To gain membership in the NFL, students must have accumulated twenty-five points by participation in tournaments. In the National Forensic League, students participate in various oratorical contests to become adept in thinking quickly and in expressing opinions effectively.

Pages maintain library efficiency

During their study halls, library pages aid in maintaining efficient organization of library materials by processing books and filing cards. They are available to answer questions and help students whenever possible.

Notehand students learn useful skills

The Notehand Club, advised by Miss Nancy Womer, culminated its year by attending Western Reserve University where they toured the campus and observed classes.

College-bound seniors benefited from other Notehand Club activities. They heard representatives from Buffalo University and Ohio Wesleyan speak on aspects of college life, such as dormitory living and the necessity of developing good study habits.

Their chief fund-raising event was the sale of the senior class song, "The Impossible Dream."

Pages' assistance eases routine

By volunteering to assist the office personnel during study halls and lunch periods, the Main Office pages alleviate routine work. They take phone messages, deliver office requests for students, and file information. Through their many services, the efficiency of the office is increased.

One of Elena Vukmir's responsibilities as a Main Office Page is to answer the telephone.

Office pages perform clerical services

Because Valley Forge has so many students, it would be difficult to maintain efficiency in the Attendance Office without a battery of help. Those who work during school hours in the Attendance Office provide the needed assistance.

Besides helping students observe attendance regulations, the pages locate individual students whom the office staff requests to see.

Counselors, too, are aided by pages who notify students and take telephone messages.

Students profit from business experiences

Cooperative Office Education, a program serving as both a class and an extracurricular activity, gives students an opportunity to earn credits while gaining business experience.

Students enrolled in COE held part-time jobs, which they obtained through the program. In addition, members of the class discussed their jobs and various ways of augmenting efficiency.

Other students who had similar opportunities were those participating in Office Work Experience. The goal of OWE is to prepare its participants for jobs after graduation.

Experience fosters business careers

The Distributive Education Club of America, advised by Mr. Calabria, was established to promote group participation, leadership, and career-study salesmanship. Recognized as an integral part of the complete distributive education program, DECA emphasizes the American system of free enterprise and individual opportunities.

The activities of DECA included the sale of chrysanthemums for Homecoming, the fulfillment of civic duties, and the initiation of fund-raising programs.

Future Nurses display concern for others

Future Nurses of America, advised by Miss Kachmarik, participate in various activities which help prepare them for their future. Meetings of the club were highlighted with films about nursing programs and with speakers from the Red Cross. The club also visited Fairview Park Hospital. The goal for this year's Club was to buy a refrigerator for the clinic. Future Nurses also served the community by sending Christmas and Easter baskets to needy families. To end the year, Future Nurses held their annual banquet at Halle's downtown store, where they honored seniors who plan to pursue a nursing career.

Y-teens strive to strengthen character

To give all members a greater opportunity to participate in club functions, the Xanthian Y-Teens divided into sophomore, junior, and senior groups. Each group took turns organizing the program for meetings.

Besides sponsoring their annual Christmas dance, "Snow a Go-Go," the Y-Teens also conducted a hootenanny with Valley Forge's Hi-Y clubs. Service projects included contributing to the United Appeal and helping with the Hi-Y clothing drive. In March, the Xanthians sponsored a booth at the All-School Party.

The Mother and Daughter Tea and the banquet at the end of the year were two highlights of Y-Teen activity this year. Members also discussed plans to attend the summer city-wide "Y" conferences at Lake Erie College for Women.

During half time at the Shaw basketball game, Y-Teen member Alice Fields sells Cokes.

Hi-Y's

practice

fellowship

Archon Hi-Y conducted its unique fund-raising event again this year. At the annual Slave Sale, members were auctioned off to the highest bidders and were then required to be slaves for a day.

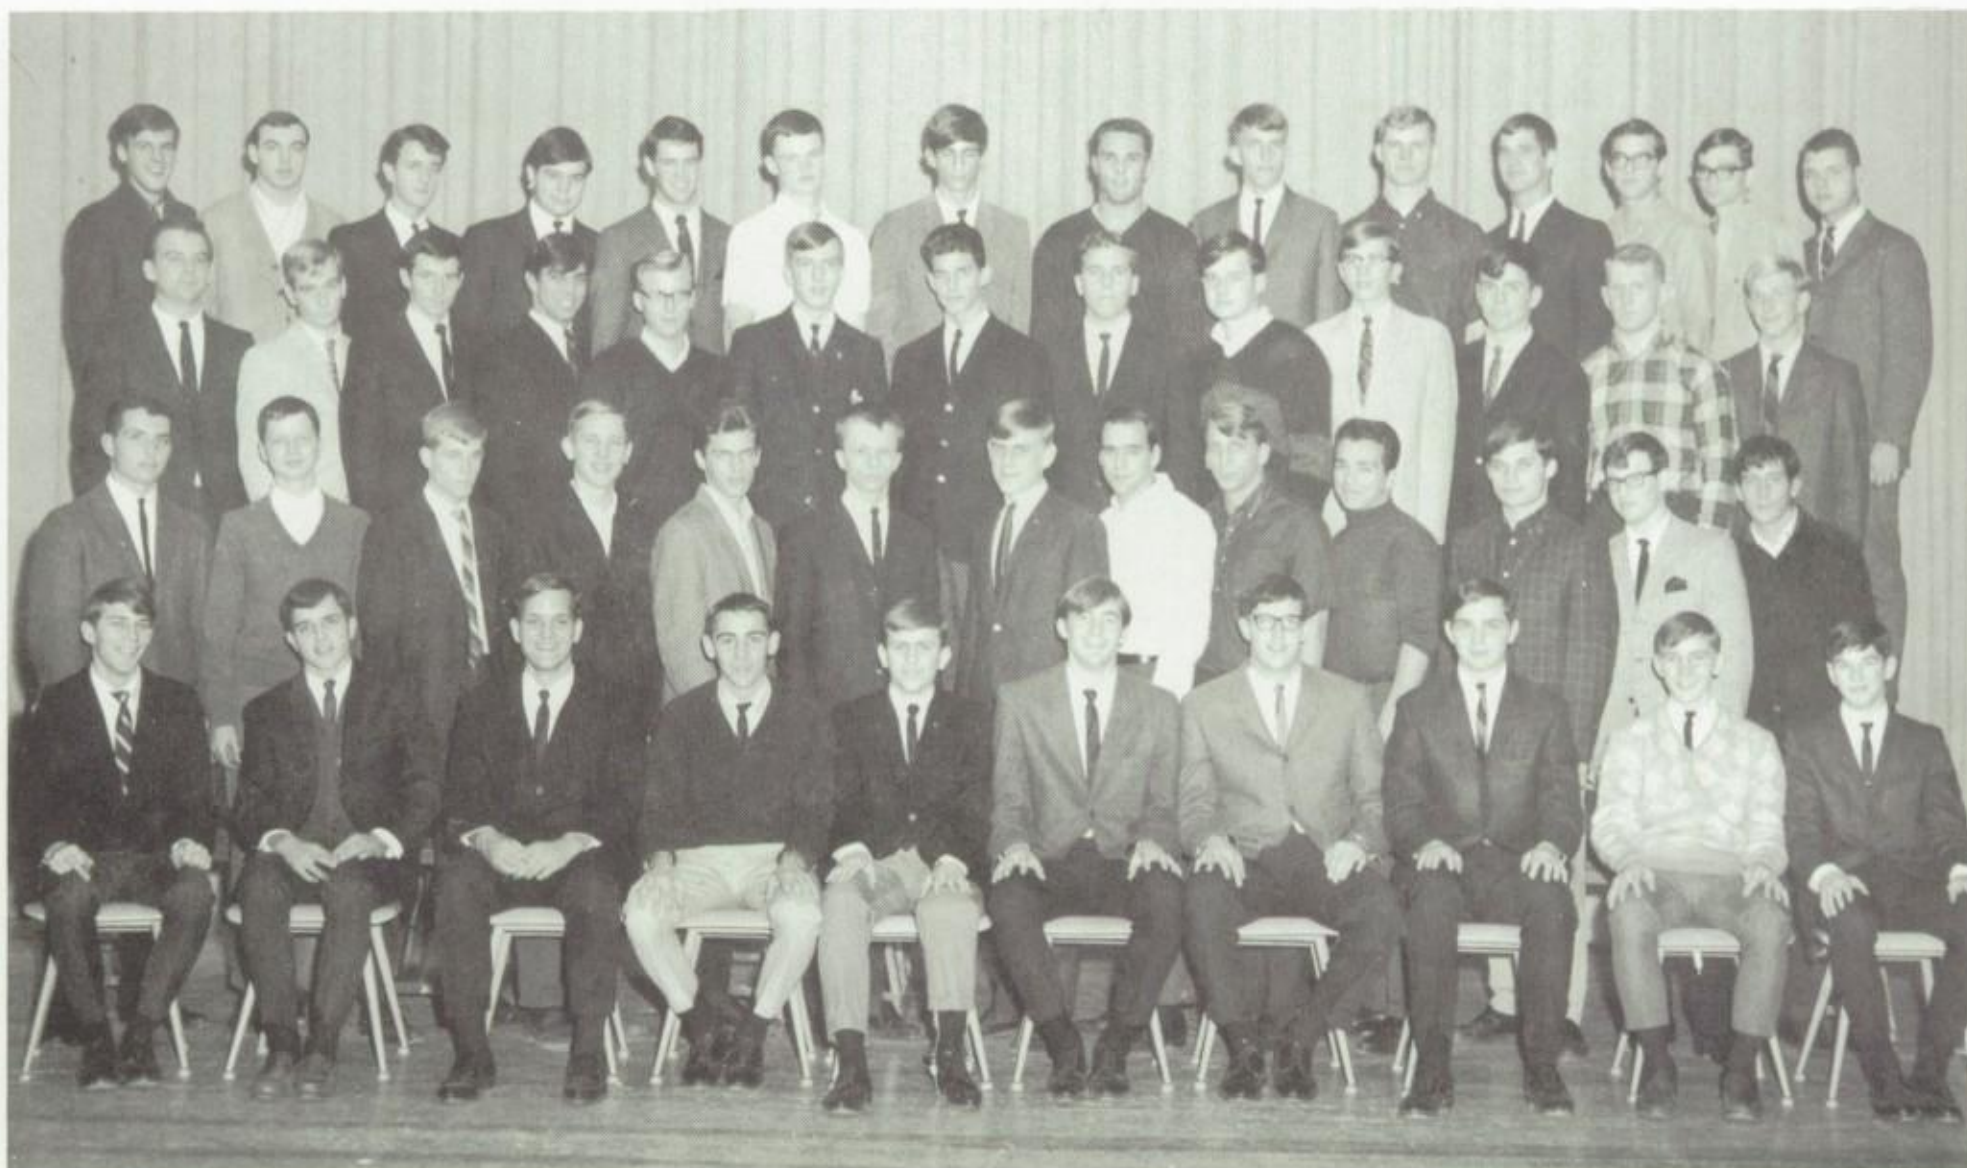

In the fall, the Olympian Hi-Y held "Thee Dance" at Valley Forge, and members contributed part of the proceeds to buy new books and tapes for the library.

Both the Archons and the Olympians took part in the Clothing Drive and the Youth in Government program, through which Hi-Y members had the opportunity to experience the workings of the American governmental and judicial systems.

Service stimulates character growth

Valley Forge's Hi-Y clubs were increased to six this year with the formation of the Etruscan Hi-Y group. Collecting nearly half a ton of old clothes, this energetic group of boys took first place among the Hi-Y groups in the Plain Dealer Clothing Drive. Etruscans also sponsored an All-School Party booth and attended the Hi-Y dance in April.

Service characterized this year's Triton Hi-Y club. Besides doing volunteer work at Parma Community Hospital, members also donated Christmas gifts and baskets to needy families and contributed to the orthopedic ward at Thoreau Park Elementary School. At Christmas the Tritons were responsible for decorating one of Valley Forge's evergreens, and, like the other Hi-Y's, they participated in the Clothing Drive and the YMCA Youth in Government program.

Action

characterizes

Hi-Y members

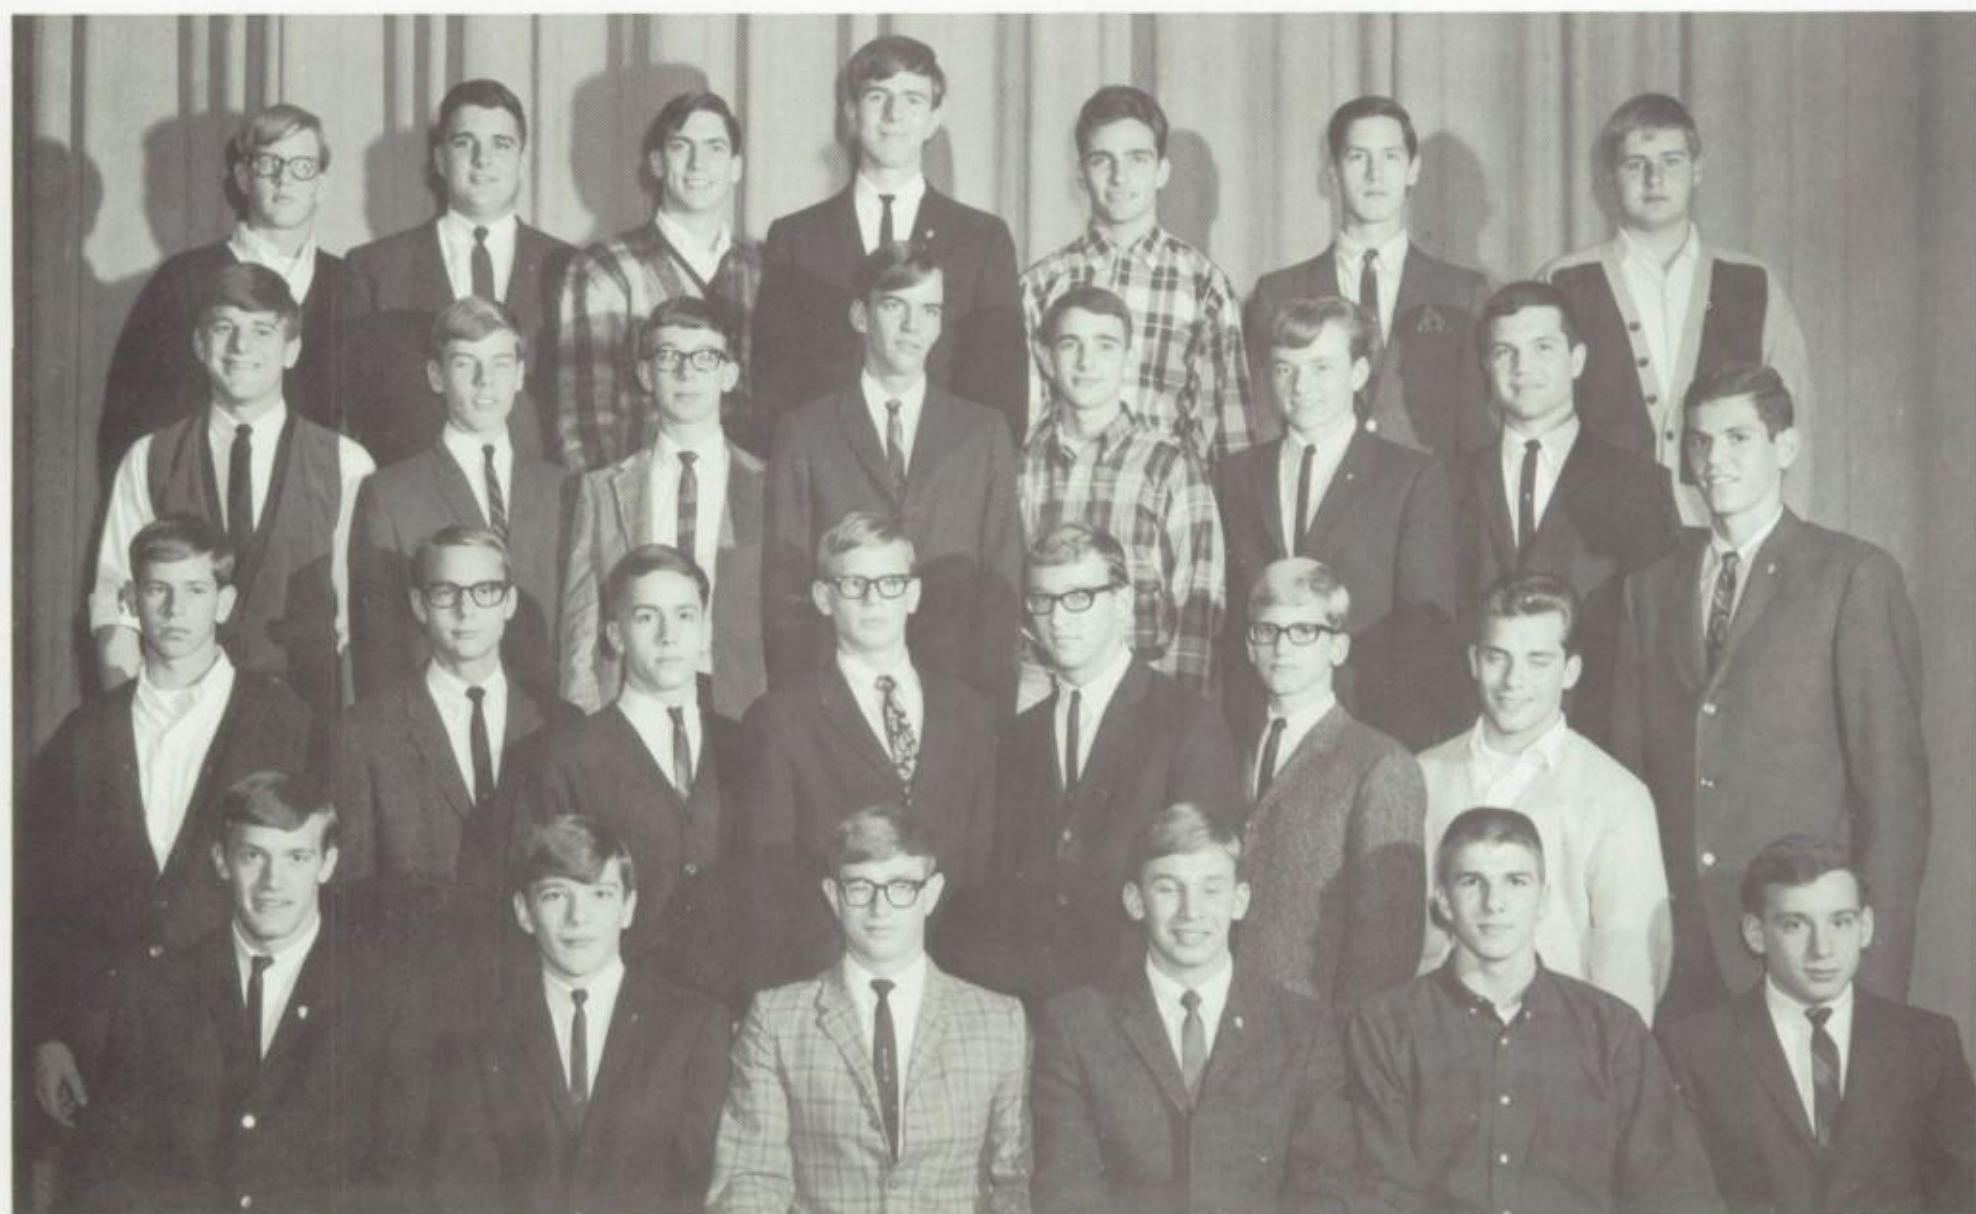

To increase their treasury, members of the Saxon Hi-Y held a dance featuring a local band at the Southwest YMCA branch. Saxons were also instrumental in collecting for the Plain Dealer Clothing Drive. In March, members took part in the YMCA-sponsored Youth in Government program, and they conducted a booth at the All-School Party.

This year's Centurian group helped to renovate and completely refurnish the chapel at Cuyahoga Community College. Centurian activities also included the All-School Party, the Plain Dealer Clothing Drive, and Youth in Government.

Key club cultivates altruism

Service is the main purpose of the Key Club. Both Valley Forge and the community benefit from this organization.

Members could be seen this year assisting handicapped students to classes, ushering at plays, and weeding the school courtyard. In addition, the boys continued helping a polio victim to walk, and working with the Blood-mobile and the United Appeal.

Leaders demonstrate dexterity

Serving as aids to the physical education teachers, Girls' and Boys' Leaders help gym students develop new skills and strengthen old ones.

Girls' Leaders sponsored the Twirp Dance, which had a Sadie Hawkins' Day theme. They also held a picnic at the end of the year.

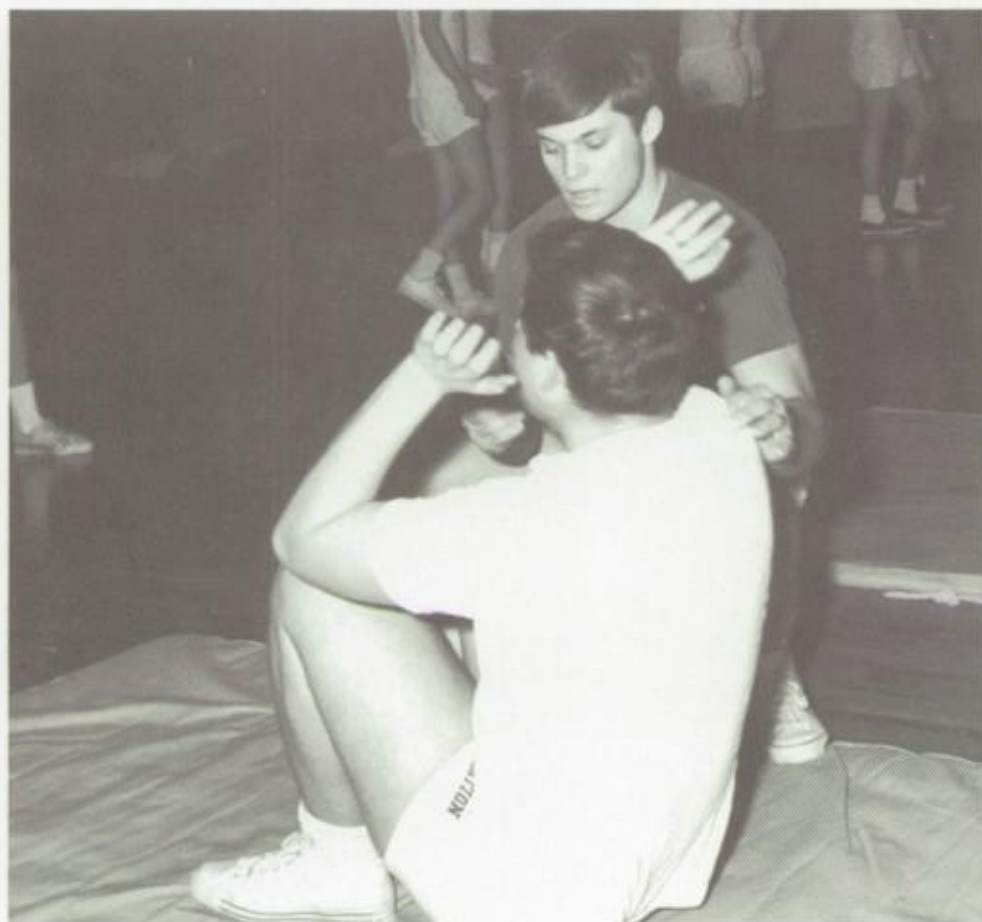

After a wrestling match, the Boys' Leaders sponsored a dance to raise funds for athletic equipment.

Connie Phillips and the Girls' Leaders perform a Hungarian folk dance for the parents at Open House.

Letters honor diligence in sports

Membership in the Lettermen's Club is open to all boys who have earned a letter in a varsity sport and who can endure the grueling initiation.

The foul shooting game at the All-School Party, and All Sports Night, at which members challenged the Faculty to basketball, volleyball, broom hockey, and wrestling, were among Lettermen-sponsored activities.

At the conclusion of the football season, senior athletes receive their second year award plaques.

Bloc club animates patriotism

Initiated last year to provide active support for the basketball team, the Bloc Club continued its cheering format at this year's games. Using placards, banners, and original cheers, members worked closely with the cheerleaders to devise unique routines and formations. Bloc Club members had new uniforms this year, consisting of navy blue skirts and matching sweaters with a white Valley Forge insignia.

Spirit surges at the Euclid game as the Bloc Club cheers on the Patriot starting line.

Boosters intensify team support

Colorful tags reading "Pound Parma," "Salt Shaker," and "Pulverize the Panthers" helped the Girls' Boosters Club support school athletic events. Besides sponsoring a dance, the girls sold programs at home games.

Boys' Boosters joined with Girls' Boosters in supporting sports events and arranging for the away game buses. The four hundred Boys' Boosters members sponsored a dance and a car wash this year. In addition, they sponsored Patriots' Day, which featured a special sports assembly, to kindle spirit for spring sports.

AVA coordinates WVFH, the voice of the Patriots

The Audio-Visual Aids crew's daily tasks include delivering film projectors and record players to classes, and filling teachers' requests for opaque projectors and tape recorders. During homeroom, A.V.A. transmits the Morning Show to Valley Forge students over WVFH.

The Morning Show is produced, arranged, and recorded by the WVFH crew during first period, under the supervision of Mr. Barrick.

Included in the program are announcements of club meetings and school activities, score reports from school games, interviews, and miscellaneous announcements.

Councils initiate awareness of man's worth

Members of the Council on Human Relations worked in Project Wigwam, formulated to provide underprivileged children with cultural opportunities that they might otherwise miss. In addition, the Council formed a little theatre group with councils from other schools. Members discussed the racial crisis, foreign affairs, city problems, and other topics bearing on contemporary life.

Promoting and encouraging safe driving among students, the Valley Forge Youth Traffic Council conducted a safety belt campaign and several reaction tests. Representatives from the Council had the opportunity to exchange ideas with others at the Regional Safety Conference held at John Carroll University, and at the State Conference in Columbus.

Language clubs probe foreign culture

Valley Forge students satisfy their interest in the Latin language by learning, through the Latin Club, how the language and culture of the early Romans have affected our literature and life.

Latin Club members, advised by Miss Chambers, attended plays and visited museums this year, in addition to holding an authentic Roman banquet. At the meetings, Roman days were frequently reenacted and, as in every year, the death of Caesar was dramatized on the Ides of March.

Valley Forge's language clubs struck a keynote of unity this year as they combined for several special activities.

Members from the French, Spanish, Latin, and Russian clubs attended the International Christmas Party, innovated this year by the German Club. At the end of the year, the five clubs held a banquet.

Extending opportunities for supplementary language study outside class, several of the clubs founded small libraries. Field trips included outings to see Jose Greco, the Vienna Boys' Choir, and a Russian Vesper service.

V.F. Orchestra performs in Chicago

This year the Valley Forge Orchestra presented four formal concerts, featuring soloists Pat Krafcik, Sue Ingersoll, Gayle Cameron, and Gene Epstein.

Valley Forge's Orchestra was one of four orchestras in the United States chosen to perform on December 13, 14, and 15 at the Midwest Band and Orchestra Clinic in Chicago.

In February, the orchestra participated in the State Orchestra Contest, and in March hosted the LEL Orchestra Festival at Valley Forge.

A performance at Baccalaureate ended the year.

The orchestra presents a concert for students before leaving for the Midwest Band and Orchestra Clinic in Chicago.

Orchestra members, Bill Schwartz, Jim Mumford, Kathy Vojnar and Roger Cappallo rehearse before school with the orchestra.

Under the direction of Mr. Cowden, members of the orchestra present a preview of their Chicago concert for the student body.

Choirs

transfer moods through harmony

The A Cappella Choir, directed by Mr. John F. Elliott, is the most active choral group, presenting seasonal and Christmas concerts, as well as competing in the LEL Choir Festival, and district and state contests during the spring. They also perform at commencement. Among their social activities were a hayride, a Hawaiian luau, and a yuletide caroling party.

Striving for perfection of harmony and dynamics, the Girls' Choir, conducted by Mr. Elliott, presented a broad spectrum of selections throughout the year. Besides participating in local contests, the choir also performed in the District Band and Choir Contest, as well as at Baccalaureate ceremonies.

Marching Band presents half time spectaculars

Introducing the Spirit of '76: Tim Thompson, Chuck Ziegler, Jim Meinke, and Doug Woikey.

Throughout the football season, members of the Patriot Marching Band performed at all home and away games.

Half time shows were enhanced by the varied twirling routines of Valley Forge's majorettes, the Liberty Belles. The Liberty Belles often performed unusual stunts, such as twirling fire.

After the football season, the Marching Band regrouped into the Concert and Symphonic Bands. Thus, in addition to marching at games and in the Christmas and Memorial Day parades, the band was also able to perform in concerts throughout spring and winter.

A highlight of the year was the Greater Cleveland Solo and Ensemble Contest, in which some members competed.

The 1966 football season proved to be a frustrating one for the Patriots. The season opened with a traditional game against tough Garfield Heights. The Patriots fought the powerful Bulldogs to a standstill through the first three quarters, but with less than three minutes remaining, Garfield pushed across the goal line. The Patriots responded brilliantly, springing halfback John Graham open for a record breaking 90-yard return on the ensuing kickoff. The final 10-6 outcome was decided on a last minute field goal by Garfield.

After being defeated by Cathedral Latin, Valley Forge hosted nearby rival Midpark. Obviously eager to get into the winning habit, the Patriots defeated the Meteors convincingly, 20-0.

Patriots topple Parma for fourth straight year

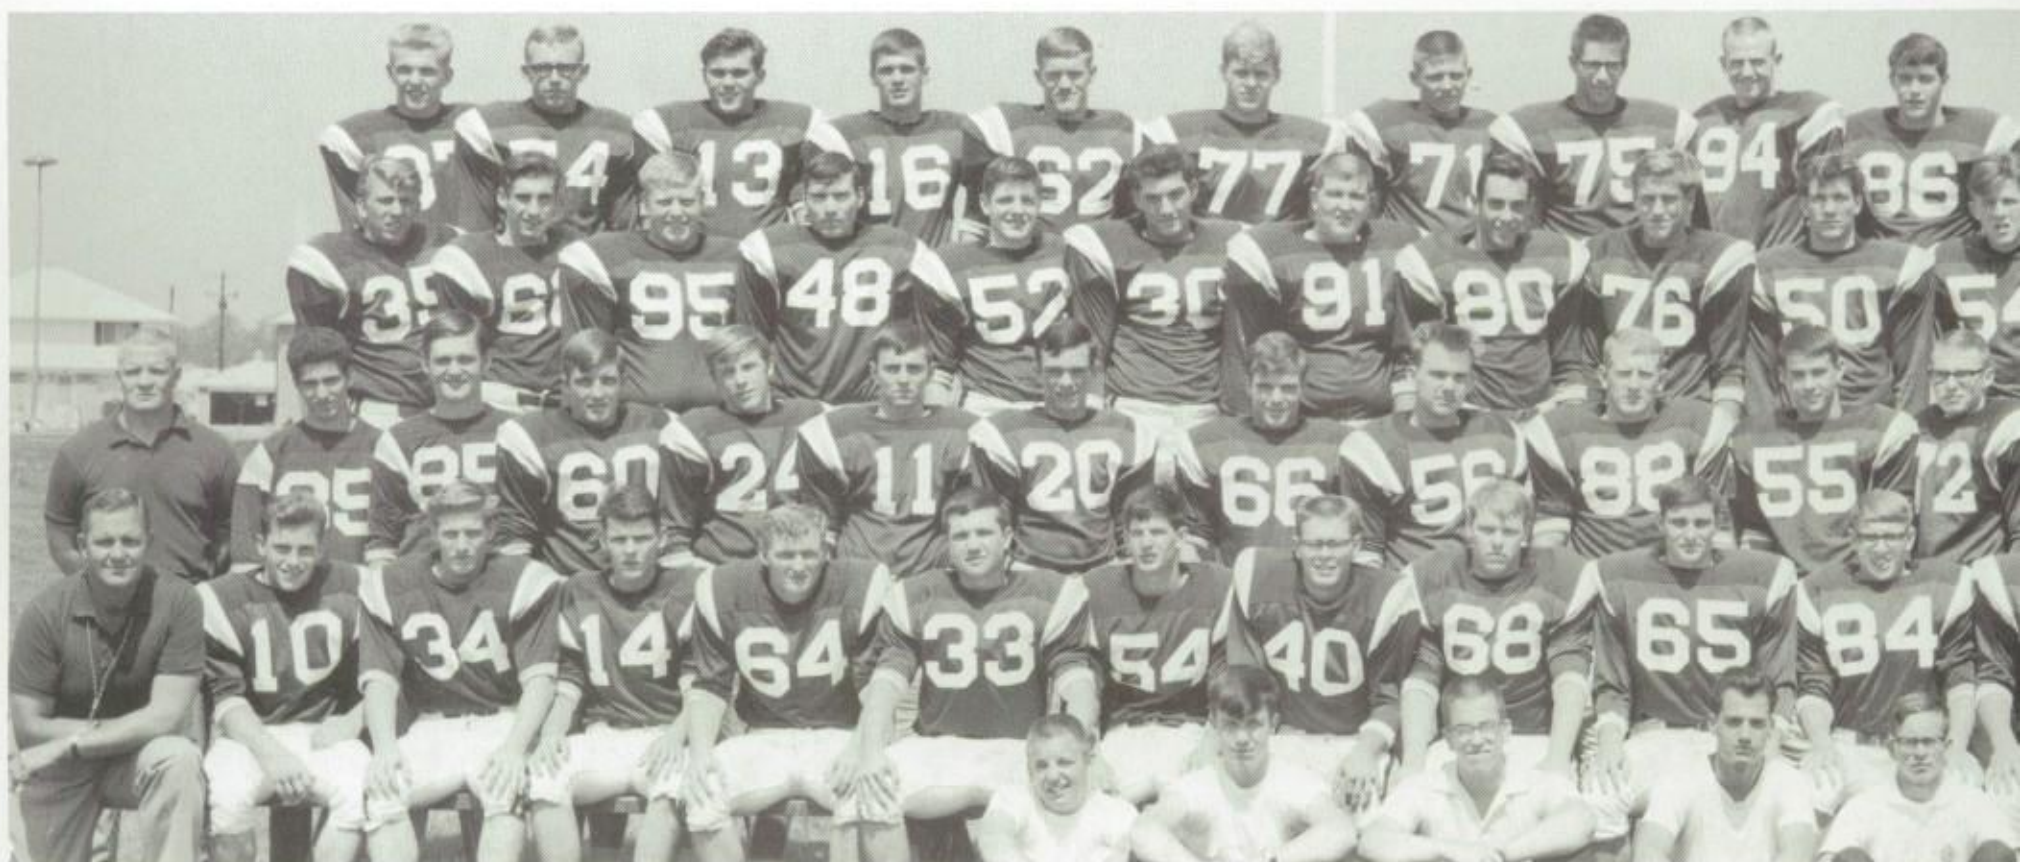

Competition for the coveted Lake Erie League title opened at home with VF beating Euclid 16-0. The following Saturday saw the Patriots fail to capitalize on several scoring opportunities as the team battled to a disheartening 0-0 tie with Shaker Heights. Lakewood next invaded Byers Field for a crucial game. Half time found the inspired Patriots only two points behind, but the powerful Rangers triumphed, 32-14.

Undaunted by the Lakewood defeat, the Patriots came back to scrape out a 12-8 victory over arch-rival Parma. A fourth quarter touchdown drive, sparked by the passing of all-league quarterback Dave Jakubs, and a last minute goal line stand by the defense clinched Forge's fourth straight win over the Redmen.

The season concluded with games against Brush, Shaw, and Cleveland Heights. At Brush, the Patriots dumped the Arcs 28-14. After a defeat at the hands of league-champion Shaw, the team traveled to Cleveland Heights. On a sloppy, rain-soaked field, the Patriots lost by a score of 22-18, to close the season with a four win, five loss, one tie record.

J. V.'s dominate L.E.L. for sixth consecutive year

The 1966 Junior Varsity Football squad continued in the excellent tradition of the five preceding sophomore teams. Under the tutorage of Mr. Preising, Mr. Courey, and Mr. Cangelosi, the team marched to an undefeated, 10-0 season. The combined six-year junior varsity record is now 49-7-1.

While a victorious season is the goal of any athletic team, the most significant contribution of junior varsity competition is to prepare the sophomore players for the grueling standards of the varsity squad. J. V. practices emphasize technique and team play. Hopefully, these characteristics will be transferred to the varsity next year.

Patriot harriers depend on experience

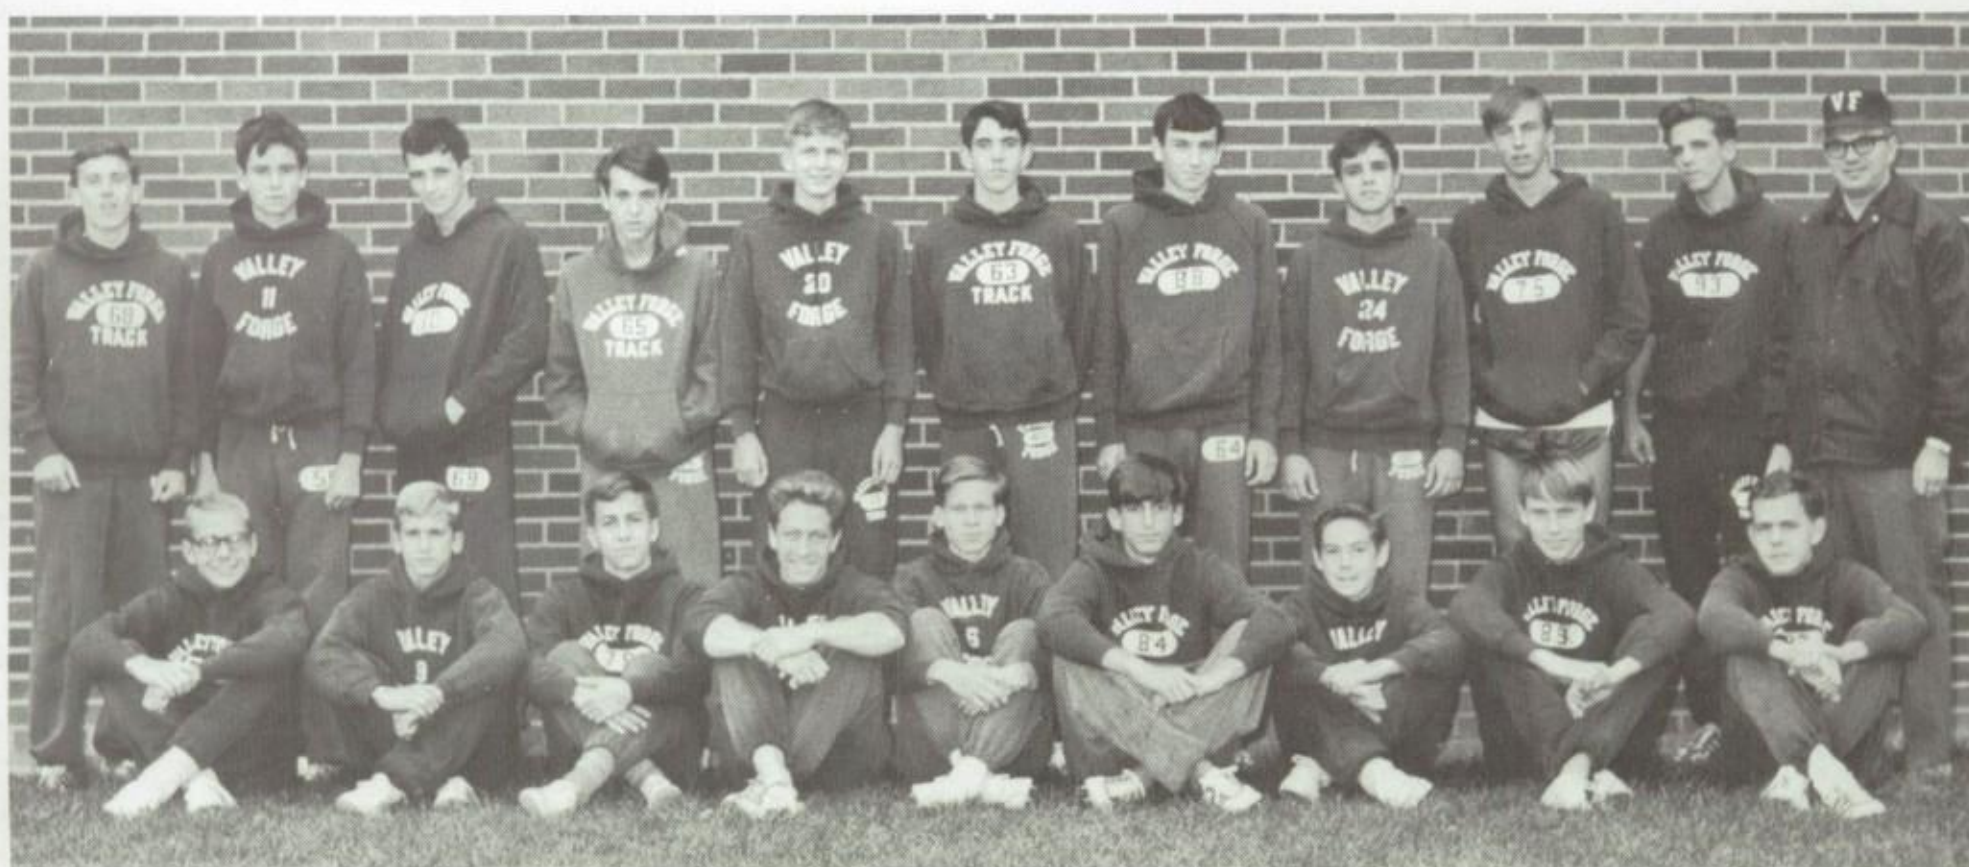

The rugged cross-country grind began before the school year started. With less than two weeks of preparation, Coach Mindek's harriers entered into competition in the tough LEL, which placed four teams at the state meets. Senior Joe Subin, a three year letterman, was chosen team captain and outstanding runner. Next year's captain-elect, Matt Biscotti, and four other returning lettermen will try to improve this year's 1-6 record.

The autumn tennis season consisted of matches with the other LEL schools. A young Patriot team battled to a two win, five loss record. In the LEL tournament, singles players Mark Mosshart and Jon Jicha and the doubles team of Scott Smeal and Del Raymond advanced to the semi-final round. The spring schedule will be highlighted by a night match with Rocky River, a rematch with Parma and competition in the state tournaments.

Cagers secure first undisputed league championship

The 1966-67 Varsity Basketball Team was the best squad in VF's five-year history. Led by outstanding 6' 6" all-scholastic center, senior Jim Wolf, the Patriots rolled to a glittering 18-0 regular season record. In the tournaments, the team won four straight before being defeated in the district finals. Their final 22-1 record certainly qualified the Patriots as one of the top teams in the state.

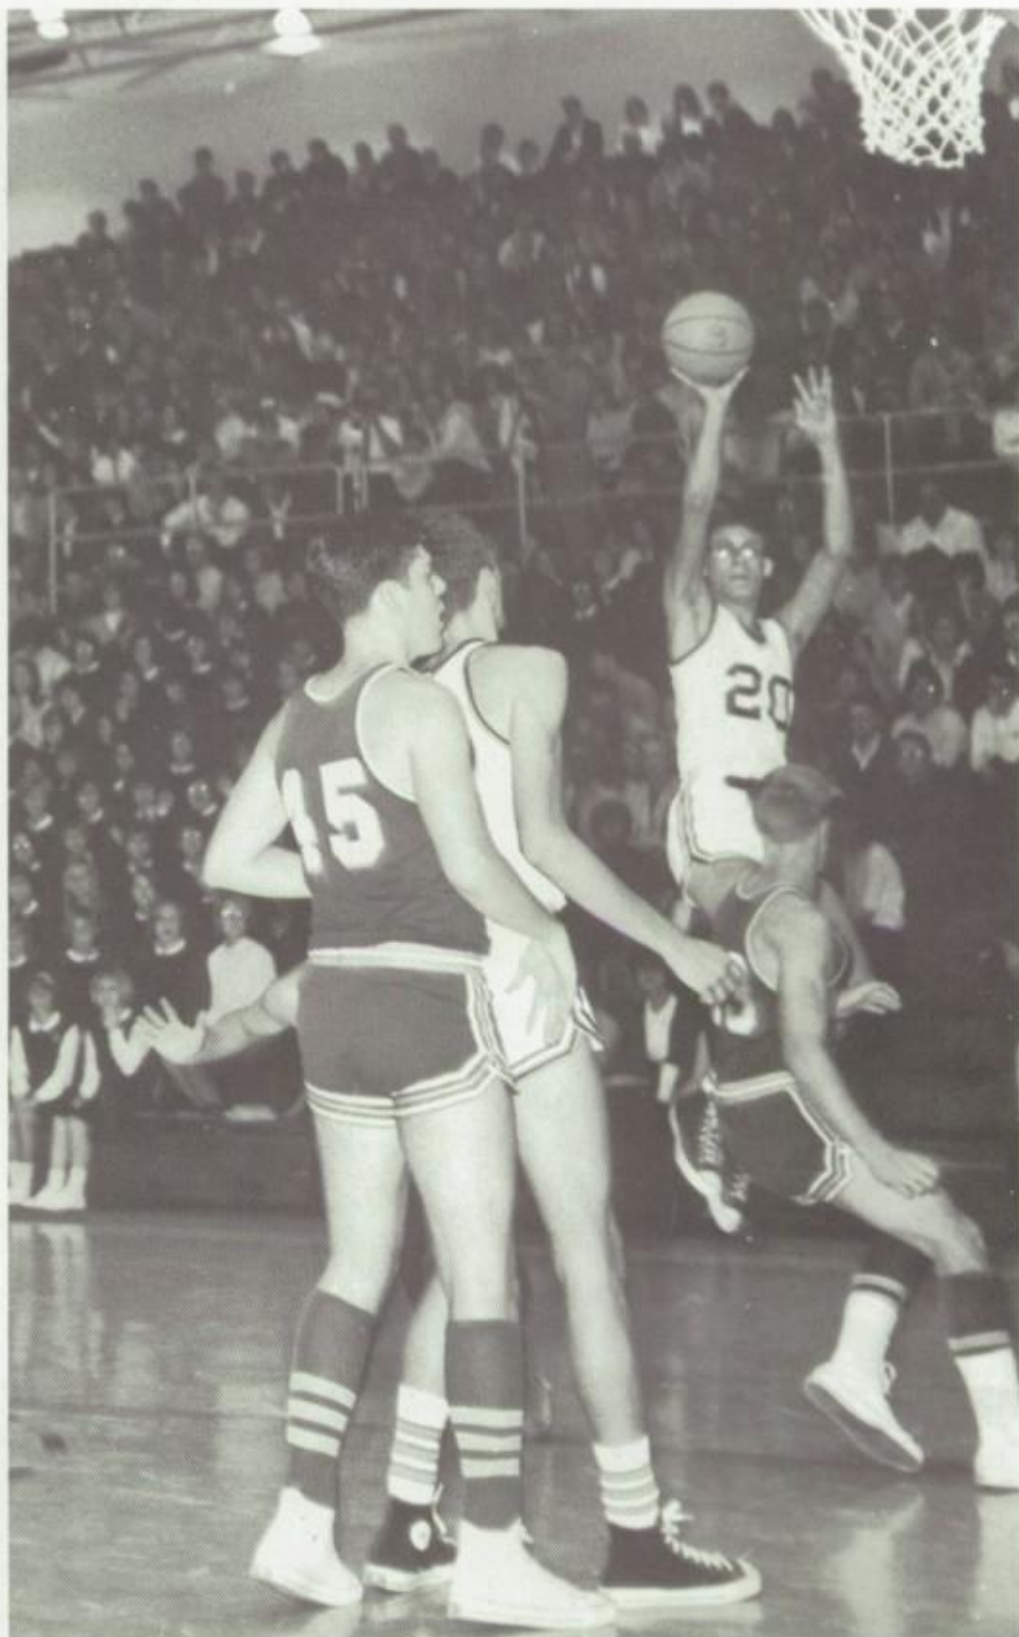

Starting in December, the round-ballers crushed their first nine opponents. These victories included wins over LEL runner-up Euclid, 81-51, and state power Mansfield St. Peter, 73-52. The Patriots then met top-rival, Parma. In an exciting game, VF edged the Redmen, 54-52. Guard Dave Rudyk's foul shot with only seconds remaining was the deciding factor in the victory.

Stretching to recover a fumbled pass, senior Steve Miller manages to reach the ball.

Roundballers finish with superb 22-1 record

The second half of the LEL season was an exact replica of the first. The powerful, defense-minded Patriots triumphed in every game. Scrappy Euclid provided stiff opposition in their second meeting with the Patriots, but senior guard Jim Rieter's last-second basket defeated the Panthers, 43-41. In the final scheduled game of the year, Jim Wolf calmly connected on four final-minute free throws to give V.F. another win over Parma, 62-59.

The Patriots waltzed through the Sectional Tournaments as the all-LEL front line of 6' 3" senior forward Steve Miller, 6' 4" junior forward Rick Yurcheshen, and center Jim Wolf joined to form an unbeatable scoring-rebounding combination. Coaches Broski and Courey led the team into the District Tournaments. At Baldwin Wallace College, the Maple Heights Mustangs forced the jittery Patriots into overtime before falling 50-46. Then, in a clash of the area's top two teams, VF was ousted from the tournament trail by East Tech, 96-77.

Junior varsity develops basketball prowess

The 1966 Junior Varsity basketball team compiled a seven win, eleven loss record. After starting the season with four straight wins, the team discovered that competition in the LEL was extremely rugged. Forward Bill Miller and guard Mark Frederick are encouraging prospects for next year's Varsity team. Coach Riha hopes that the JV's experience will help them continue the winning tradition of Valley Forge.

fourth straight

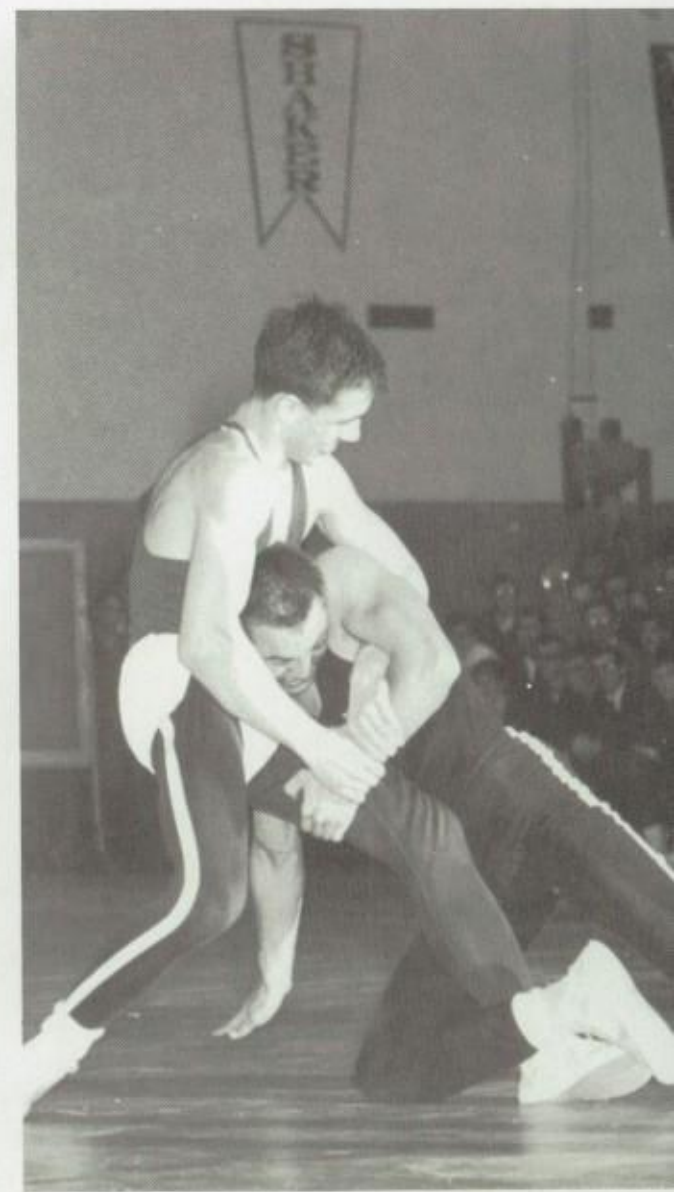

LEL title

The 1967 wrestling team experienced the best season in Valley Forge's five varsity years. Tournament and league championships were climaxed by the runner-up trophy in the state tournament.

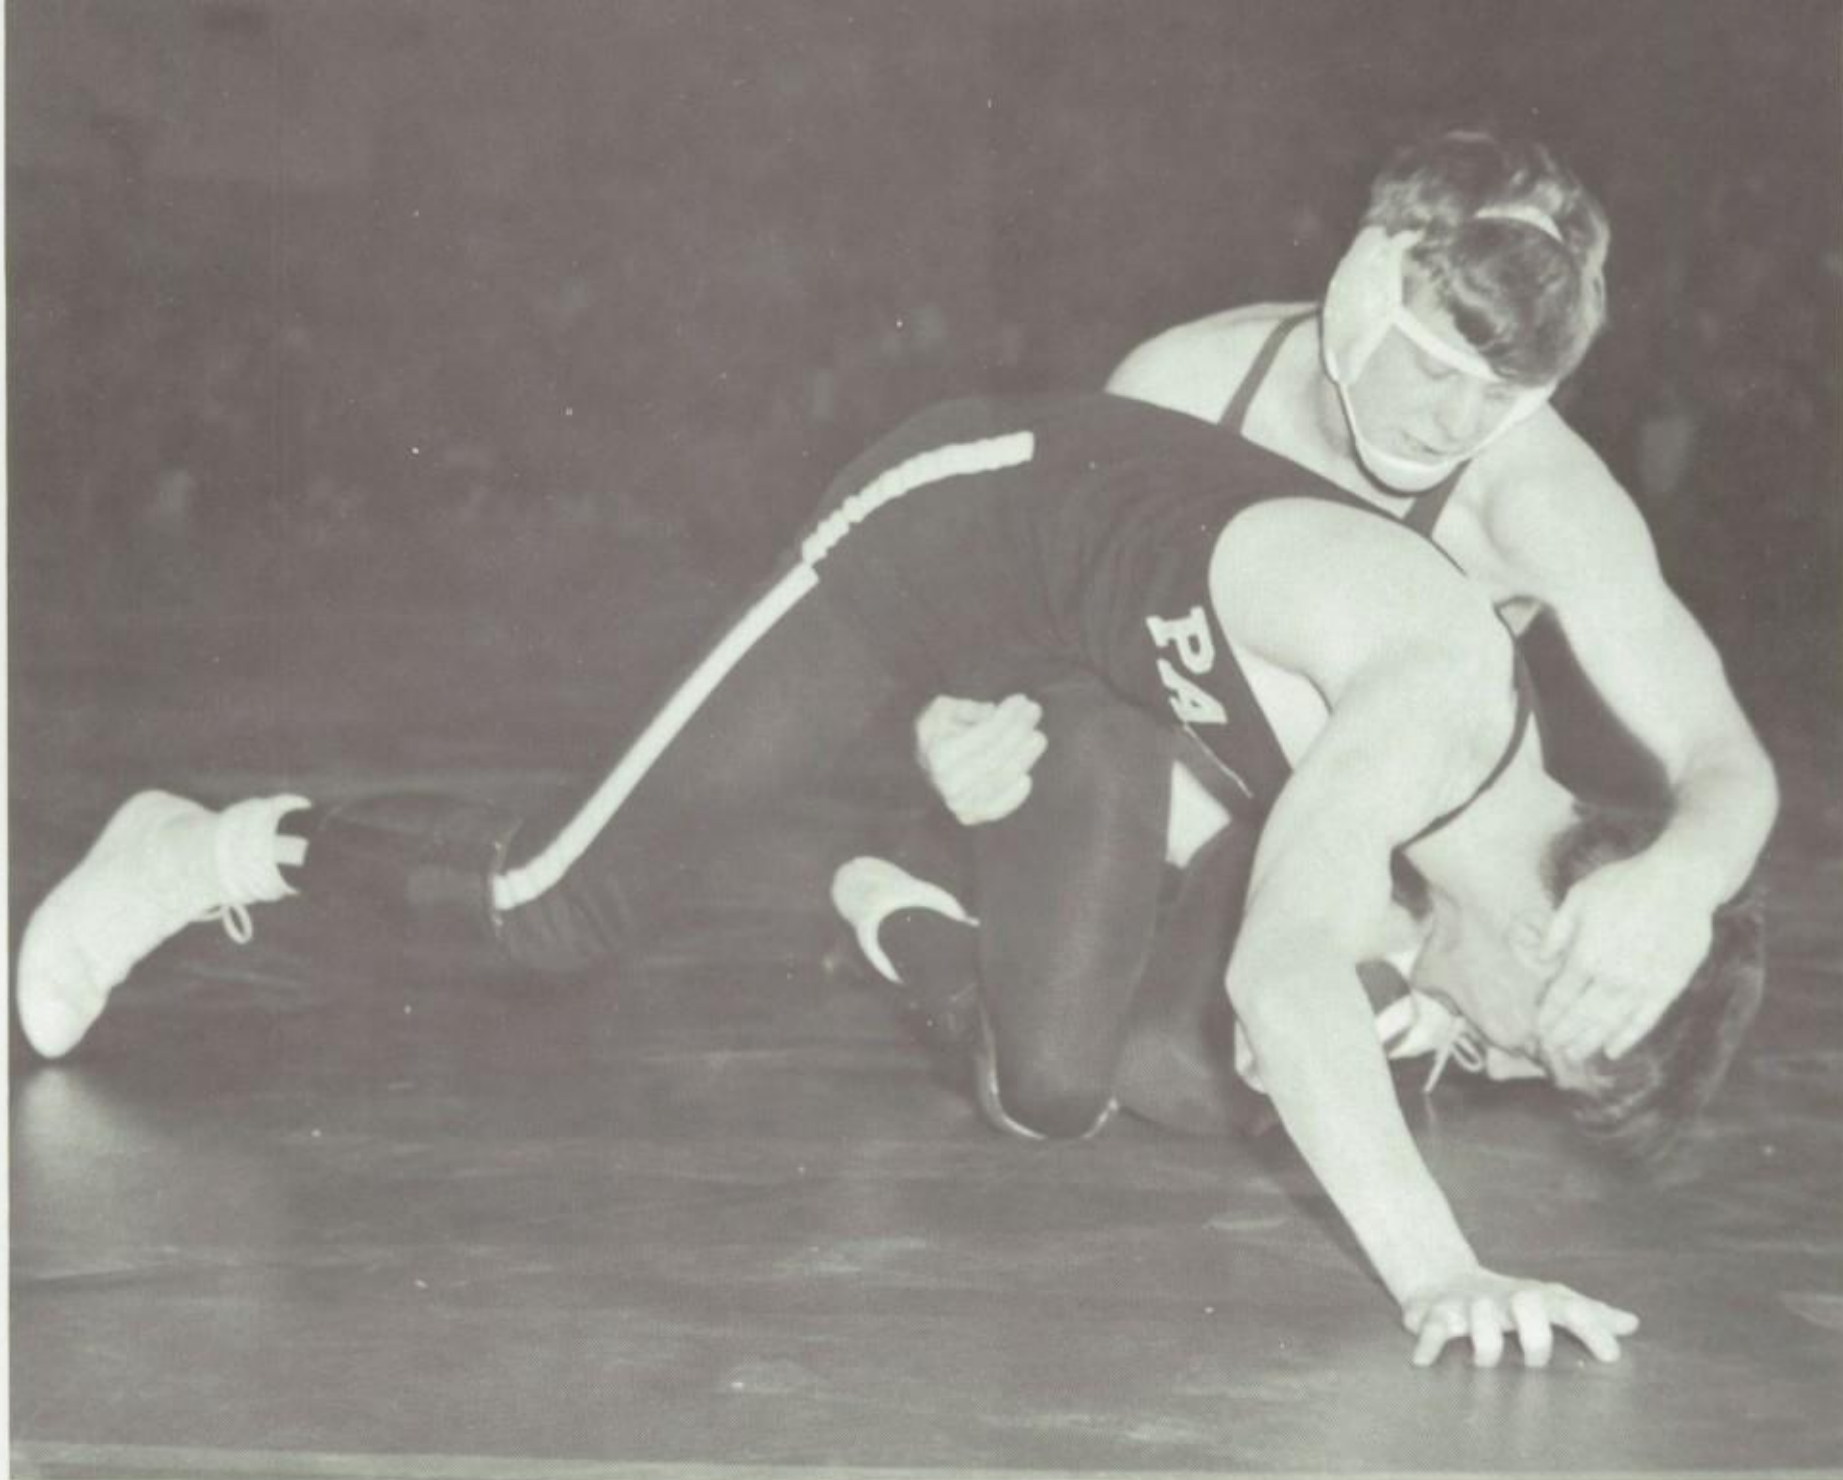

The season began with the wrestlers winning their third championship in four years in the Brecksville Holiday Tournament. The team concluded the dual meet season 11-0-1, which included a 6-0-1 record in the LEL. Highlights of the dual meet season consisted of an 18-17 victory over Eastlake North, a 19-17 win at Cleveland Heights, and a 19-19 tie with Parma.

District champ Dennis Coupe (12-0-0) uses an effective maneuver to block a switch.

Trying to reverse, Brecksville champ Lee Barylski (11-0-1) struggles to flip Parma's Bill Saye off-balance.

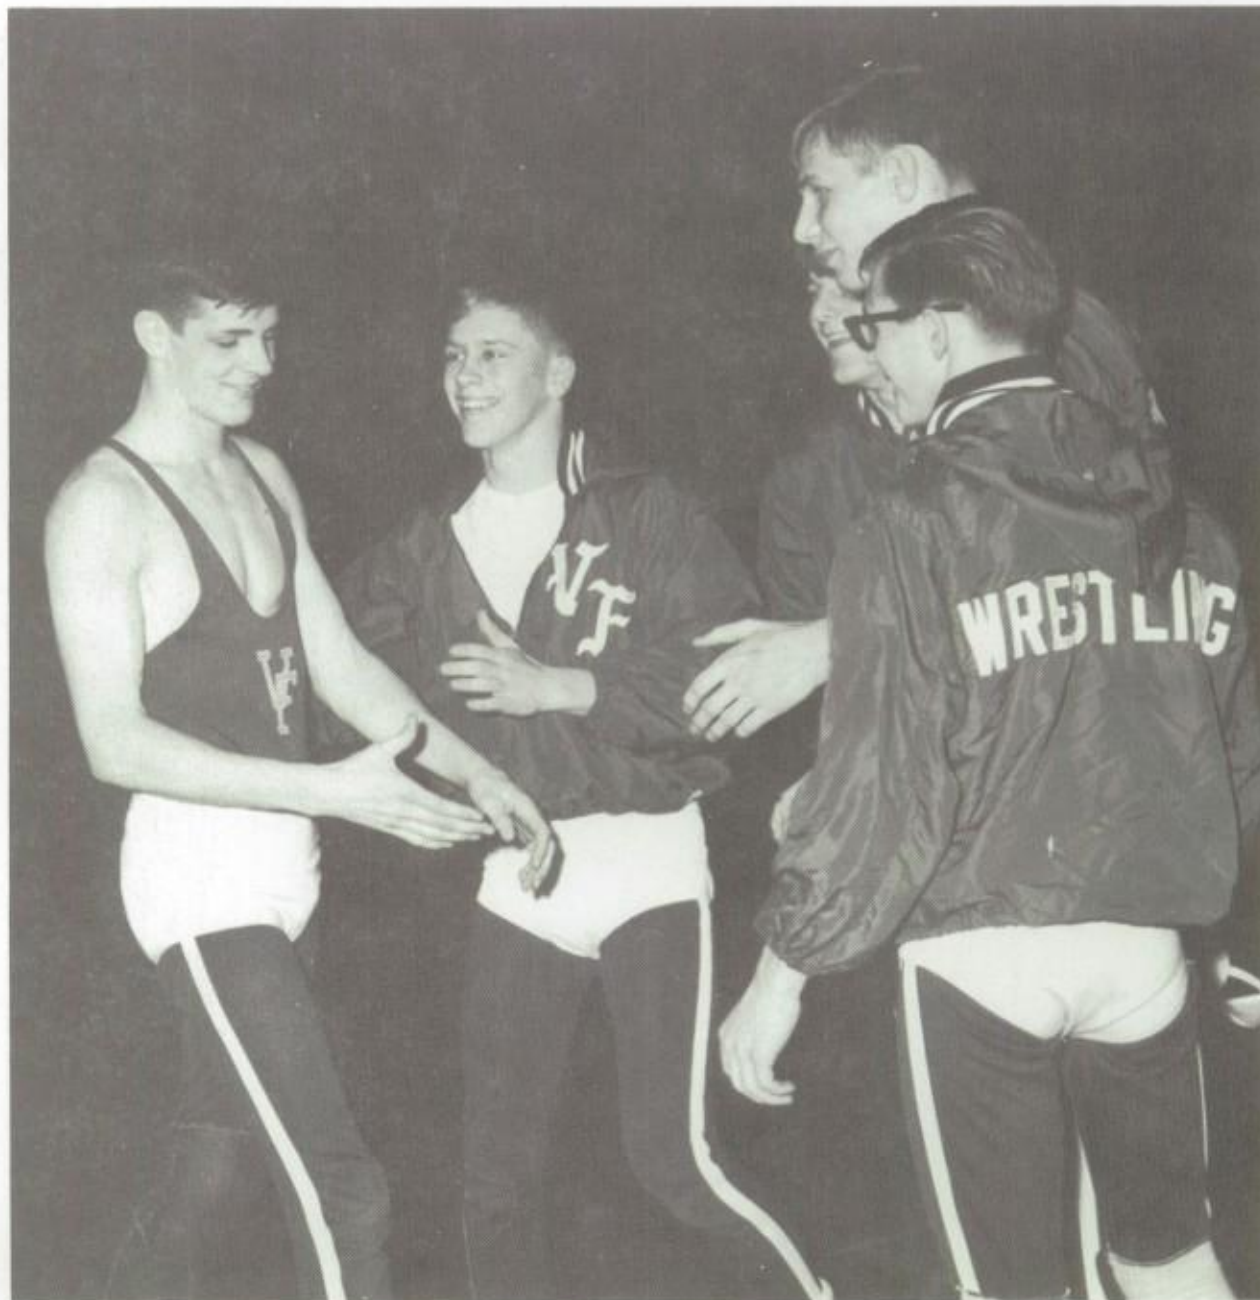

All-scholastic Woody Barry (12-0-0) employs a bulldog and a half-nelson while on the way to another victory.

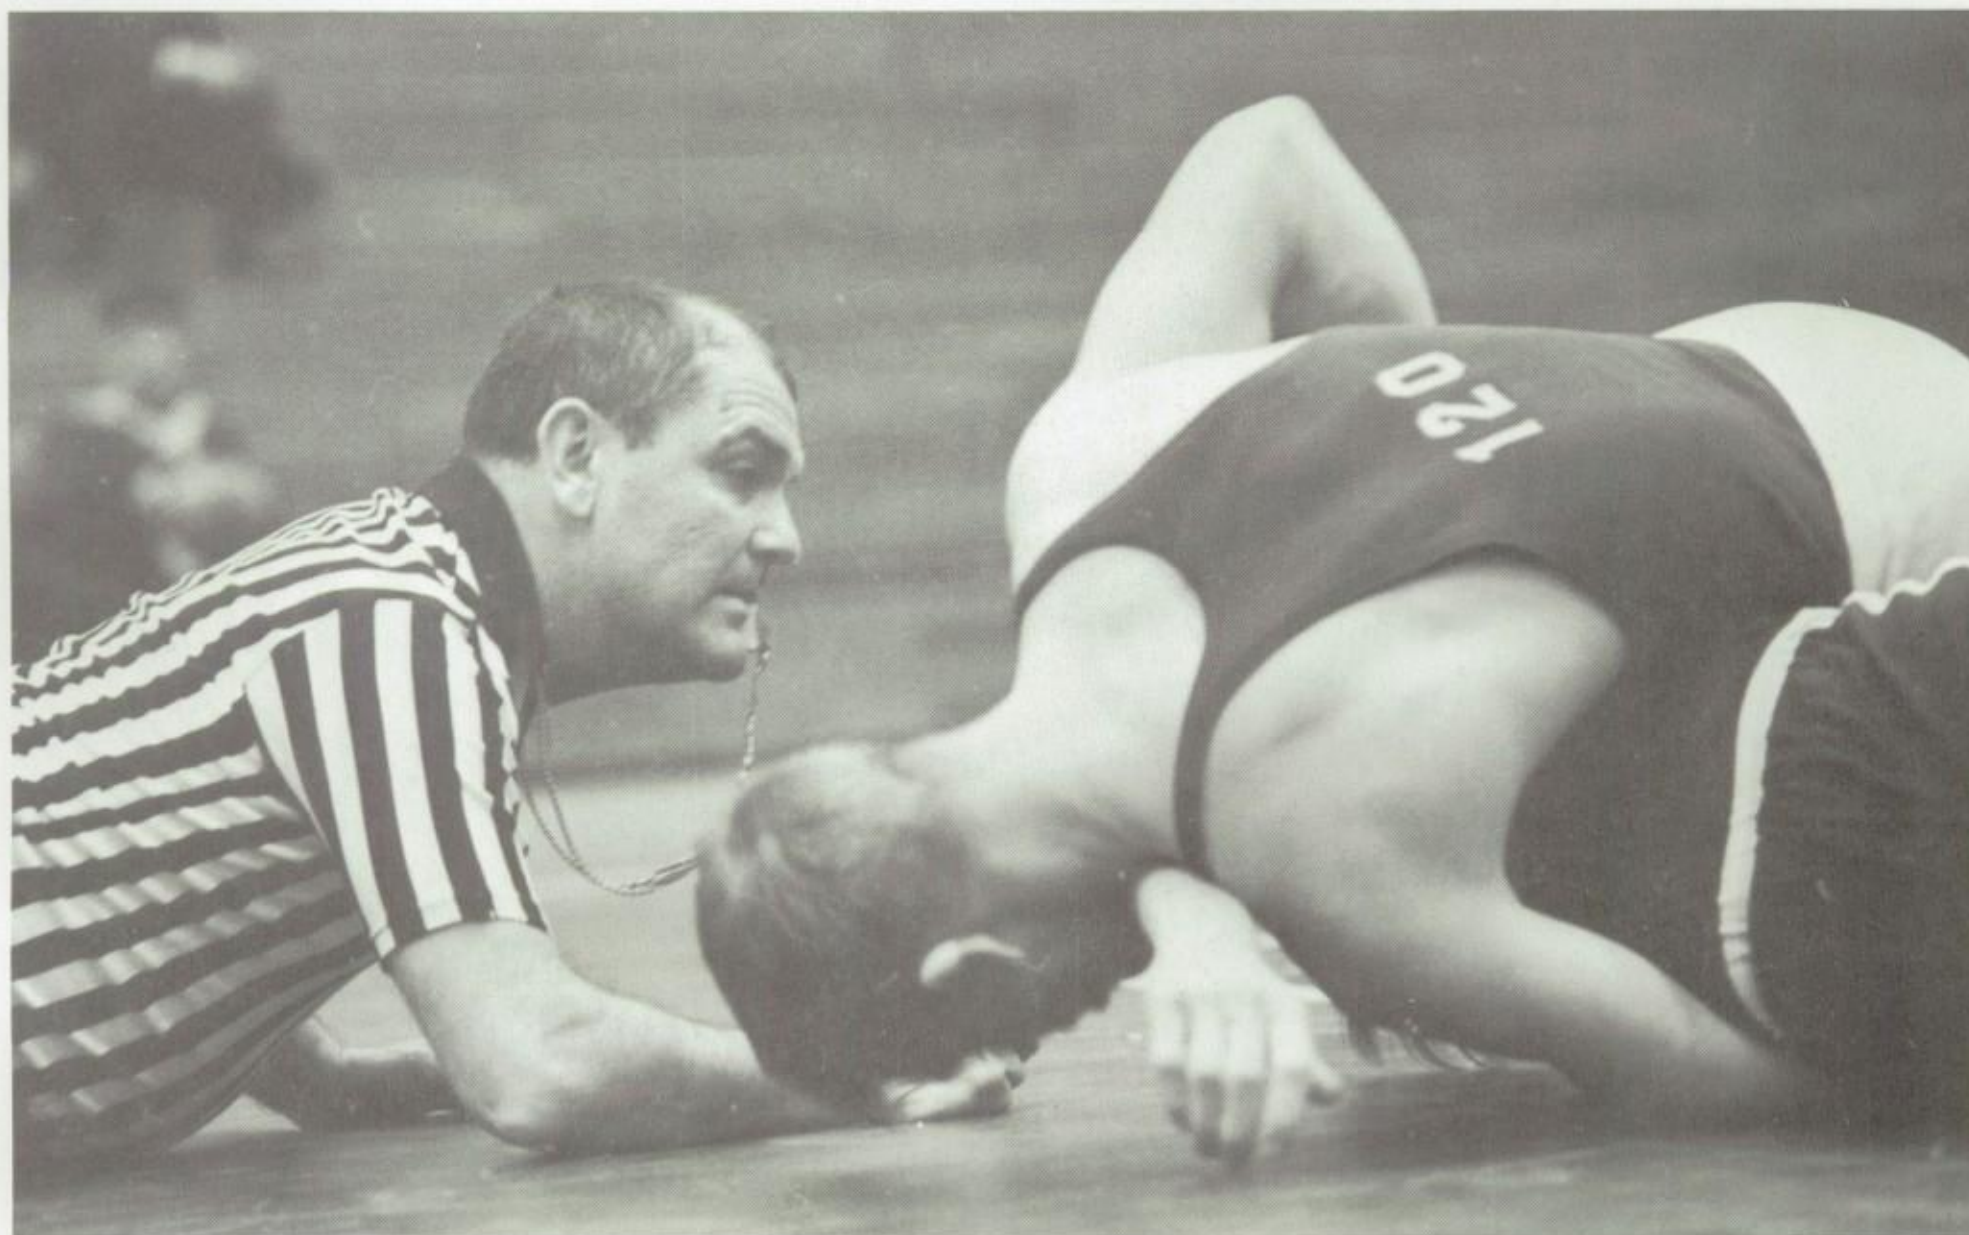

Patriot coaches Rudo and Samary shout advice to district champ Fred Hague (12-0-0).

Matmen are state runners-up

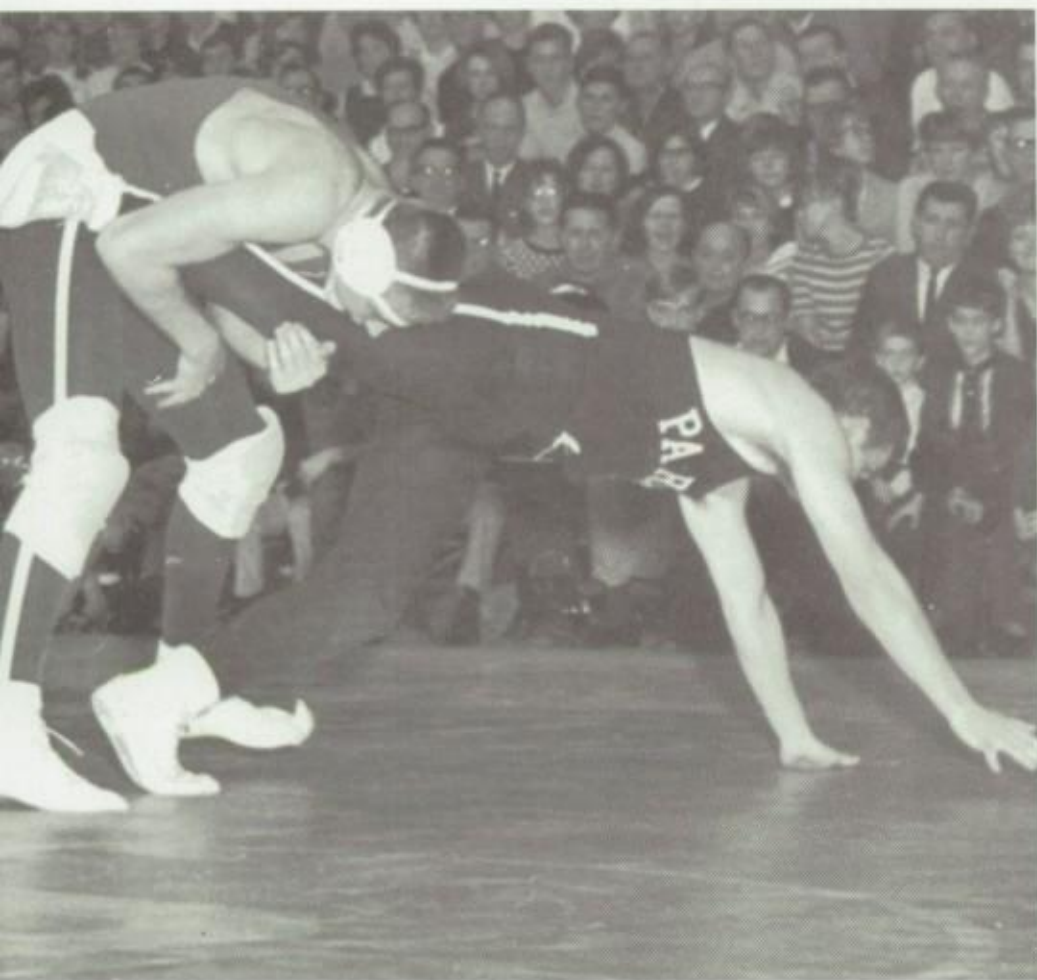

The grapplers placed second in the sectional, district, and state tournaments. Fred Hague, Bob Lade, Lee Barylski, Woody Barry, and Dennis Coupe qualified for the state tournament. Lade placed fourth at 120 pounds; Coupe third at 165; and undefeated 145-pounder Woody Barry became Valley Forge's first state champion. Coaches Rudo and Samary selected Woody as the team's outstanding wrestler, and Dennis Coupe was voted the most improved wrestler.

The team congratulates sectional runner-up Tim Cahal (7-4-1) after a fast pin.

With his Lakewood opponent's shoulder only inches off the mat, sectional champ Bob Lade (11-1-0) presses for a pin.

J V wrestlers reign in LEL

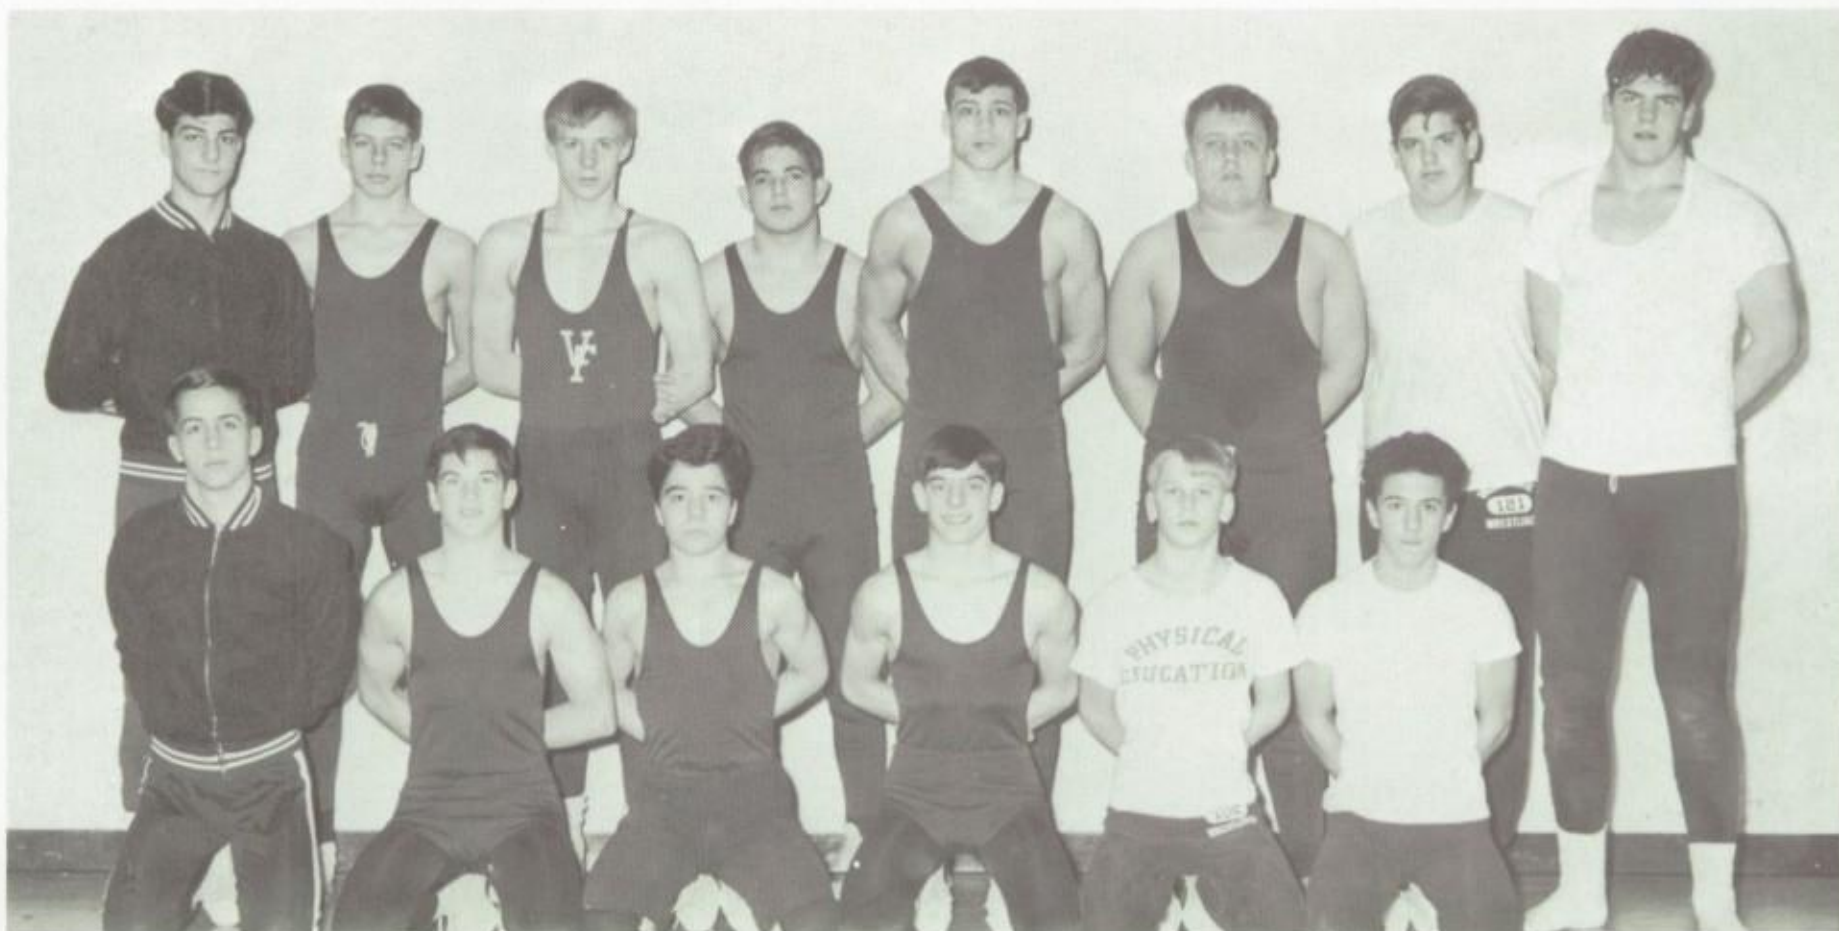

The JV wrestlers were also victorious this year. The team was undefeated in the LEL, and had an 11-1-0 overall record. In the ten team LEL Sophomore Tournament, VF placed second; Rick Singerman, Bob Niemic, and Dave Brunst took individual championships. Mark Petersen left the JV's near the end of the season to wrestle varsity at 133.

Kegler's finish high in standings

The Varsity Bowlers competed in the 24-team Greater Cleveland Interscholastic Bowling League. Mr. Kaiser, the team's coach, was extremely pleased with this year's record. At the close of the season, Valley Forge held fourth place in the scratch standings and finished first in the handicap division. By capturing the handicap title, VF became the first recipient of the Cleveland Press Ben Warfield Memorial Trophy. Senior Ken Lee was the team's leading bowler, maintaining a 179 average. Senior captain Mark Leppa carried a 170 average, and received his third-year varsity award.

Intramurals

stimulate active sports participation

The Intramural Program at Valley Forge covers a varied spectrum. Starting in the fall, students are encouraged to participate in sports activities such as football, basketball, skiing, bowling, volleyball, and golfing. Mr. Preising, intramural director, arranges schedules so that boys of each class and of varying abilities can compete at an equal level. Intramurals not only furnish the chance for a student to gain recognition by demonstrating his skills, but also provide the participant with the satisfaction of winning a contest and the equally important experience of losing.

Cindermen return as contenders in LEL

The 1966 track team showed what Coach Carlo termed "dedication to the sport" as they finished second in the LEL. The season record of nine wins and two losses was the best in VF's history. The team was led by sprinter-hurdler Dale Strawhacker, pole vaulter Phil O'Toole, distance runner Mike Groenke, and Most Valuable Team Member Greg Barber. The team also placed third in the Berea Relays, and seventh in the District Meet.

Prospects for the 1967 season are good, with fifteen lettermen returning from last year's squad.

Valley Forge's Varsity Golfers posted a four-win, six-loss dual meet record. The team finished strongly, placing 2nd out of 41 schools in the State District Tournament, and second by one stroke in the LEL tourney. Letters were awarded to Jerry Docktor, Bob Holzworth, Dave Morse, and Bob Speers, while Don Starre and Fran Goodwin received plaques as recognition of their second year in golf. Coach Fritzsche's team should be strong in '67, with Starre, Morse, and Holzworth back.

Baseball squad expects better season

The 1966 Patriot baseball team compiled a nine-win, twelve-loss record. The star performer of the team was catcher Bill McCleave. Bill, chosen All-Scholastic, played in both the North-South and the East-West All-Star games.

Prospects for this year are bright with nine lettermen returning. Coach Rudo's big hope is that Steve Miller, Steve Rock, and Ron Suran will gel into an outstanding pitching staff. The team will be rounded out by seniors Tim Dagnan, Greg Vickers, Jim Sears, and Jeff McCleave, and juniors Ron Fiore and Ron Kencson.

Infielder Jim Sears takes a healthy cut at an opposing pitcher's offering.

Pitcher Ron Suran fires a fastball past a Cleveland Heights batter.

Covering the first baseline on a bunt attempt, Patriot second baseman John Fricker steps up to make the tag.

Roy Hasbrook and pitcher Steve Rock stare as a hard smash skips down the right field line.

During the Padua game, Steve Miller steps away from a low, inside pitch.

Spirit squad kindles enthusiasm

Cheerleaders never seem to lose their energy, enthusiasm, or bright smiles. Cheering at Patriot football and basketball games, they promote support of the teams and spur them to victory.

Led by Captain Sue Schwan, Vice-President Sharon Paoletta, Secretary Sharon Koster, Treasurer Joyce Shuster, and Publicity Chairman Linda Ziegler, the Varsity Cheerleaders sponsored a number of events during the school year.

By selling candy bars and holding a carwash, these girls helped to defray the cost of their uniforms. The School Spirit Contest, a dance after the Parma home basketball game, and a booth at the All-School Party were just some of this year's cheerleader-supervised activities.

Sportheads and officials coordinate girls' intramural program

The Girls' Intramural Program exists through the efforts of the Sportheads. These girls are responsible for pre-activity bulletin boards, setting up teams and tournaments, caring for equipment, keeping attendance records, and establishing and officiating a schedule for each activity.

Along with the enjoyment gained from actual sports participation and accomplishment, the Sportheads are given ten points in each activity with which they assist.

The Officials Club and Sportheads combine their efforts to establish the Intramural program in accordance with the most current rules, and to assure the safety of everyone participating in the program. Officials are responsible for training members in proper officiating techniques and assigning them to intramural activities.

Karen Christian and Connie Barnard earn intramural points by participating in ping-pong tournaments.

Girls' Varsity Sports initiated at Valley Forge

Girls' Varsity Sports, organized and directed by Miss Diane Sikorski, includes teams which competed with other LEL schools in volleyball, basketball, and softball. To be on any of the teams, girls had to demonstrate their athletic ability at rigorous try-outs.

Intramurals supplemented the regular physical education program. Through participation in this program, girls increased their knowledge and skill in the many activities which were planned with the girls' interest in mind. Providing fun for all the girls, intramurals helped develop a keen sense of fair play, a greater enthusiasm for sports, and a feeling of group responsibility.

SENIORS

To be a senior is to realize—

that the time for new beginnings is almost over . . .

that a school's vitality remains even after its seniors have graduated;

to experience—

the merging of tangible todays with elusive tomorrows . . .

the ordered melange—cards, tape measures and shuffling feet—of cap and gown measurement . . .

moods hastily communicated by twenty-seven jostling senior homerooms pouring out of the auditorium;

to anticipate—

living outside the framework of high school . . .

developing into a more complete person
by meeting new situations with growing maturity and independence;

to remember—

opportunities that have been allowed to slip past because there "just wasn't enough time" . . .

the sense of personal gratification
from three years of mood sharing . . .

Valley Forge.

To try, despite obstacles, to achieve something is courageous. To witness such an effort is inspiring and ennobling. For this reason, the sense of loss that accompanies death was compounded when Pete Fedock died.

Suffering from muscular dystrophy, Pete was confined to a wheelchair. His handicap, however, did not prevent him from attending school. From his first day as a sophomore to his last day as a senior, Pete did not permit misfortune to deter him from having hopes for the future.

Pete Fedock's was not a glorious, trumpeted-forth courage. It was quiet, personal, glimpsed briefly in hallway crowds. It was abiding and steadfast and spoke eloquently for his character.

He will be missed.

The Impossible Dream

from "Man of La Mancha"
by Joe Darion (lyrics)
and Mitch Leigh (music).

*To dream the impossible dream, To fight the unbeatable foe,
To bear with unbearable sorrow, To run where the brave dare not go,
To right the unrightable wrong, To love, pure and chaste, from afar,
To try, when your arms are too weary, To reach the unreachable star!
This is my Quest, to follow that star, No matter how hopeless, no matter how far.
To fight for the right without question or pause,
To be willing to march into hell for a Heavenly cause!
And I know, if I'll only be true to this glorious quest, That my heart will lie peaceful and calm when I'm laid to my rest.
And the world will be better for this.
That one man scorned and covered with scars,
Still strove, with his last ounce of courage, To reach the unreachable star.*

A senior year at Valley Forge is a period of foresight and far-reaching decisions—

the choice between college and a job after graduation . . .

the selection of a college or university suited to individual needs;

retrospection and reminiscences—

the daily routine of classes and the excitement of championship teams;

activity and involvement—

in practices for Commencement and Baccalaureate . . .

in personal relationships, sometimes ended after graduation.

Editor's letter. . .

The production of a yearbook is an exasperating, but exciting task. The work begins in April, when a new staff is oriented, and continues until March when the final page is completed. In the spring, inexperienced members are acquainted with the ground rules of journalism. During the summer, numerous decisions concerning theme, style, and cover are made. With the opening of school, the staff elaborates on the plans by taking hundreds of pictures, by writing cutlines, headlines, and numberless copy blocks, and by designing each page.

When the work finally ends, the rewards of the yearbook endeavor are evident. Some rewards, like the attainment of superior national ratings, are definite. Others are intangible—the satisfaction gained from cooperating with people and the pride gained from accomplishment. The formation of a yearbook is actually secondary to the individual experience of working with others which each staff member receives. This yearbook is the manifestation of the combined efforts and skills of each editor, writer, typist, and photographer. For their energy and time, I humbly thank each Archive staff member.

On behalf of the entire staff, I thank the adults who guided the creation of this volume. We extend our appreciation to Mr. David Smith for his encouragement and advice; to Mr. Paul Retrum of Artmaster Yearbook Company for his indispensable assistance and his valuable contribution of countless ideas; to Mr. Edward Bonk of Stan's Studio for his excellent supervision of our photography needs; to Mr. Irving Lloyd for his unique candid pictures; to Miss Barbara Irwin, the Business Adviser, for her operation of the sales campaign; and finally, to Miss Suzanne Murphy, the Editorial Adviser, for her immeasurable devotion to the staff and for her creativity which made this book possible.

The Archive presents a graphic pictorial history of the 1966-67 school year. I hope that it contains the stimulation of thrilling memories for every Valley Forge student.

Dave,
 To a wonderful guy I've really enjoyed knowing
 our school years.
 the Lord bless and keep you always.

Dave,
 We've been together since the seventh grade, and we've had some pretty good times and experiences over the years. You are a really great guy and really great friend. Remember the classes we've been in together and all the fun we've had. Good luck and God Bless

Chuck '67"

P.S. - We had a swinging lunch
 table too.

Dave
 To a real great guy, who should go far in whatever he tries. Always remember current Prob. and Government.
 Best wishes in whatever you
 try. Ken (chief) Gate 67

Dave,
 Best of luck in all
 your future endeavors.
 It's been a real pleasure
 knowing you this past year.
 R. M. A.
 Sue Ann Schultz
 '67"

Dave,
 See you guys a swinger!
 Good luck with future life, and the upcoming career that follows the heated road ahead. I remember all the good times out of school in our senior year out with as the ones in. Take the football games, etc.
 P.S. look at page 224
 R. M. A.

Dave,
 The best of luck in all. It has been a pleasure
 knowing you.
 Be good!
 Your.

Just Best
of luck
Dale

Dave,

Is a great guy and good friend. Remember all the good times we had in Voc. II

Good luck
Larry

Dave,

We had a lot of fun this year, I'm sure you'll agree. It's been a wonderful pleasure to know you Dave. See you in the future, Dave,

George

Dave,

20 a real nice guy who was in my Govt. Class. Best of luck to you always!

Kathy

Dave,
To a very nice guy who
sit next to in Homero
Remember M. Kovacks
what a burden we are on him
Don't get electricuted and you probably become rich some day. God bless in your future years and God Bless R.M.A.
Marilyn "67"

Dave, I do it
Too bad I don't know you very well, you seem like a very nice guy. Anyway, anyone who suffers through
M. Govt. has got to be good.
Remember cute lil' Mr. Kraustson.
R.M.A. '67
Anna Zehnder, the girl who sat on the left
of you!

friend Earl Jeff. Pick "67"
I hope you remember the many years. We had a lot of fun and I hope you remember the
a real fine
no live known for Don't forget our

Dave
To one of my bench fellow
in Electronics we've had great times in Electronics I hope your year
has been as great as mine
EJ '67 (SKINSAC)

Dave,
To a real sweet
kid that I had fun
knowing this year.
Remembered our Current Problems class & also
our government class.
Good luck in all you do, and have fun doing it.
Gene Singleton

To Dave,
The Bright eyed
and Bushy tailed kid
from Current Probs.
and Govt.
Good luck in '69~
Don Thompson

To a Dave
Guy. A great exciting one
our class.
Good luck

Dave,

I remember when we were buddies in 5th grade - then high school and junior high,
with all its students,
got in our way - but U.S. Government renewed
our friendship.

Good luck to a sweet guy and God
bless you - R.M.A.
Cheryl

Dave
To a nice kid
who I would have
like to have known better. Good luck in your future.
